Fact-Finder Has Hope for Accord on Steel

Weekend Agreement Indicated

Panel to Report To Ike on Monday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's chief fact finder said today he is "not without hope" for a settlement of the steel strike that will avert use of a Taft-Hartley law injunction.

George W. Taylor, chairman of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry board, made that comment to a reporter as industry representatives resumed presenting their side of the deadlocked labor dispute to Taylor's three - man panel.

Opens Way for Courts

In effect, Taylor was saying he thought it possible a settlement could be reached this weekend.

The panel is to make a report to Eisenhower on Monday. Once it reports, the way will be cleared for the government to turn to the courts and ask for an order directing that the 500,000 striking workers go back to work for an 80-day cooling off period.

Such orders are authorized by the Taft-Hartley law.

Eisenhower granted the panel an extra three days for its work—moving the deadline, for the board to submit a report to the White House, from Friday to Monday.

May List Issues Today

The panel conferred separately with the industry and union Wednesday night. Taylor was expected to announce a summary of the strike issues—the areas that need to be resolved before any agreement can be reached—at the close of formal hearings today.

The striking Steelworkers Union concluded its version of the strike issues late Tuesday.

In 93rd Day

Today was the 93rd day of the strike—the longest in the industry's history.

Steel industry witnesses were scheduled to present today an elaboration of their testimony that the union's demands confront the nation with a fateful decision — to "accept another inflationary wage increase in steel, or to go without steel."

Outlook Brightens

George W. Taylor, chairman of the fact finders, indicated his belief that the mediation outlook had brightened somewhat.

John A. Morse of Bethlehem Steel said Wednesday the industry is not adamant on how labor cost economies desired by the mills are to be achieved. And Union President David J. McDonald said the steelworkers' economic demands also are susceptible to bargaining.

On Tuesday Taylor had said it would be "a miracle of the very first order" if a settlement is achieved this week. Announcing his request for a delay in the report to the White House, he indicated he holds hope of a voluntary agreement.

Hopes to Avoid Report

"Naturally our aim is to avoid filing any report at all," he told reporters. Only a settlement, or reasonably bright prospects of one, would eliminate that necessity.

Taylor said some progress has been made toward defining the strike issues. He announced there would be an unusual open session of the fact-finding board Sunday.

VAN DOREN RETURNS TO SPOTLIGHT—Charles Van Doren, who came out of hiding Oct. 14 to accept a Congressional subpoena, tells a press conference in New York that he will say nothing about alleged quiz show "fixes" until he testifies in Washington Nov. 2. He read a prepared statement to the press in which he denied having tried to evade the subpoena. Van Doren won $129,000 on the TV quiz show "21." (NEA Telephoto)

Distressed, Apologizes

Van Doren Refuses Word on Earnings

NEW YORK (AP)—"I really did not know of the great interest you had in me until yesterday — and here I am today which is as soon as it was humanly possible for me to meet with you."

It was Charles Van Doren speaking. The 33-year-old English instructor appeared in public Wednesday to accept a subpoena to testify Nov. 2 before a House subcommittee.

The subcommittee has heard testimony that NBC's now defunct Twenty-One show, the program on which Van Doren scored heavily, was rigged.

The subpoena, issued last Friday, summons Van Doren to tell how he won $129,000 on 14 appearances in 1956-57.

Out Gathering Thoughts

At a tumultuous news conference, Van Doren said he "was so distressed by the events of the previous days" that he took a week's leave from his teaching post at Columbia University and had been on a trip to New England "to gather my thoughts."

Van Doren, reading from a hand-written statement on yellow paper, apologized for what he called "my apparent aversion" to the press for the last several days.

But he refused to discuss his quiz show earnings in advance of his scheduled appearance in Washington.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the investigation, had charged Van Doren with dodging the subpoena.

Denies Dodging Order

But Van Doren said in his statement that the first he knew of the order was Monday night and that he then made himself available.

He said he was distressed last week when NBC suspended him as a $50,000-a-year network consultant pending the outcome of the

ERROL FLYNN

Heart Attack Is Apparent Cause Of Actor's Death

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Errol Flynn, whose real-life adventures often outdid his swashbuckling movie roles, died Wednesday night in an apartment where he had dropped in for a drink. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

"He died laughing," said Mrs. George Caldough, Flynn's hostess during a visit here. "He was having a good time and enjoying himself."

En Route to Airport

The graying, 50-year-old actor was en route to the airport with Mr. and Mrs. Caldough and his 17-year-old protege Beverly Aadland.

"We just dropped in to see some friends for a cocktail," Mrs. Caldough said.

She said he complained of a pain in the back and the doctor they were visiting took him into another room for relief. He lost consciousness while the doctor was out of the room for a moment, she said.

An inhalator crew worked over Flynn for 57 minutes and then he

Evacuate Arroyo Canyon Area as Brush Fire Gains

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sheriff's officers started evacuating residents in the lower end of Arroyo Seco Canyon as a foothill brush fire today moved toward suburban communities north of Los Angeles.

The fire — believed caused by a reckless flip of a cigarette — has covered about 3,000 acres of watershed along a 30-mile perimeter.

The blaze is about a mile from the town of Altadena, north of Pasadena. This was on the southeastern front of the flames.

Sears Picnic Area

On the northern perimeter, the blaze made another major breakthrough as it seared 500 acres of a picnic area known as Oakwilde and raced toward Angeles Crest Highway, a major thoroughfare.

Although the winds had subsided in the fire area, prospects for controlling the blaze still were dim.

One county fire captain said: "It looks like it'll take a couple of days at least. We haven't had much rain at all the last few years and I've never seen the brush so dry.

"This stuff doesn't burn—it explodes."

Few Homes Damaged

Only a few homes had been damaged since the fire broke out Tuesday along Angeles Crest Highway above the foothill suburb

Rocky Is Going to California

Plans Two Talks; To Visit Oregon

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, who is considering challenging Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican nomination for president, disclosed today he plans to invade California, Nixon's home state.

The governor said he planned two public appearances in Los Angeles next month. The governor said he also plans to visit Oregon.

To Discuss Issues

The governor told a news conference today he would discuss national and international issues during the West Coast visit and expected he would meet with Republican leaders.

He will be in Los Angeles at the time of the western states Republican conference there, beginning Nov. 12.

The governor said that he was not making the trip as a candidate for any office.

He conceded, however, that he would not be surprised if the visit were interpreted as further indication that he plans to seek the Republican nomination for president.

Says Summary Reasonable

The governor was asked to comment on a news magazine poll that said Nixon was an overwhelming favorite among the Republicans for the party nomination. Rockefeller said that was "a pretty reasonable summary of the situation," but "I wouldn't know" whether Nixon was assured of the nomination.

Rockefeller has indicated he will announce early next year

15,000 Upstate May Go Jobless In Steel Rift

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The number of workers in Upstate New York idled by the growing steel shortage may reach 15,000 next week.

Announced lay-offs of almost 2,500 employes at three General Motors Corp. plants in Buffalo and one in Rochester will boost the Upstate toll to more than 14,000 Friday.

In addition, three GM radiator plants along the Niagara Frontier said Tuesday they would furlough a "substantial" part of their 4,400-man hourly work force next week.

Wednesday the Chevrolet engine plant here announced layoffs for 2,174 workers, effective Friday. The forge plant, where 300 are already idle, will idle 50 more. The Chevrolet foundry will furlough 300 next week.

At GM's Delco appliance division in Rochester, 200 more layoffs were announced Wednesday, bringing the total there to 2,200.

Settle School Bus Issue in Vote Today

Voters of Kingston School District (Consolidated) went to the polls today to cast their votes for or against liberalization of school bus transportation.

Polls opened at 9 a. m. and will remain open until 9 p. m.

Present bus policy established by the board of education is the so-called one-and-two-mile program. Elementary school children residing more than a mile from their schools, and secondary school children residing more than two miles from their schools, now obtain transportation.

Text of Proposition

Voters will mark with a cross either the "Yes" box or the "No" box on the ballot.

The proposition:

"Resolved that the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) liberalize the present transportation regulations to transport children in the rural area to school on a half mile basis for kindergarten through the third grade; on a one and one-half mile basis for students in grades seven through 12; and be it further resolved that the Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) liberalize the present transportation regulations to transport children in the city on a one mile basis for students in grades kindergarten through six and on a two mile basis for children in grades seven through 12, at an estimated increased cost of $60,000-$90,000."

Heart Case Was Cause of Thruway Crash: Autopsy

A two-car crash on the Thruway near Newburgh Sunday which claimed four lives was caused by a heart attack, according to Dr. Torrance Payne of Newburgh.

An autopsy disclosed that Louis Sidorsky, 57, the Bronx, suffered an attack which caused him to lose control of the car which was proceeding south. The car swung across the center mall and smashed into a northbound vehicle operated by Stefan Konowalczuk, 38, of Troy.

Sidorsky was killed in the collision, as were Edward E. Kestenbaum, 49, and Francis J. Dunleavy, 55, both of the Bronx, passengers in the Sidorsky vehicle. Mrs. Konowalczuk, 38, Troy, a passenger in the other car, died an hour later at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh. Konowalczuk and his daughter, Oksana, 5, were admitted to the hospital with injuries.

Orange County Coroner Harvey Agnew issued certificates of accidental death.

Davis and Others Protest Early End

A Public Service Commission hearing on the city's requested elimination of the Washington Avenue viaduct closed unexpectedly at the end of the opening morning session today under resentment and protest of several in attendance, including, among officials, County Attorney Arthur A. Davis Jr.

It is due to reopen Nov. 17 to hear testimony of the New York Central Railroad, but it ended today with lack of opportunity for many who had intended to testify, to be heard. Examiner Gerald W. Knapp, decided to close today's session after Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly indicated that testimony for the city was finished.

State Interest Cited

The session lasted long enough, however, to bring emphasis on the state's consideration of the city's bid to eliminate the traffic hazard.

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang, as Chamber of Commerce president, the first witness called, entered several letters on the record and one of them from Henry Tan Hagen of the state engineering staff, dated last Aug. 10 said:

Awaiting PSC Word

"This department has recommended it, and I can assure you that we are going ahead with improvement of Route 28 from the Thruway interchange to North Front Street as soon as the Public Service Commission issues an order to remove the viaduct."

County Attorney Davis said he was due to give testimony in behalf of the county and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, but the unexpected end of the session, prevented him as well as other officials and residents of the viaduct area from getting anything on record. Several had indicated that they had wanted to be heard, and one man who asked for privilege of the floor shortly after the session opened, was told that he could speak later.

Railroad Against Paying

Ferdinand Schue, assistant general attorney for the railroad, indicated that the railroad, as at a 1954 hearing, was not opposed to the viaduct elimination, unless it would be obliged to pay a share of the cost.

The railroad, however, now appears less certain that it will not be asked to share in the project cost, and Attorney Schue appeared to be getting more inquiry and testimony on record than did W. R. Stevens, counsel for the railroad at the 1954 hearing.

C. K. Bartholomew and associate civil engineer, State Department of Public Works, represented that department, and others representing the railroad were E. S. Miller, special engineer, and Stephan J. Keating, trainmaster. The city was represented also by Mayor Edwin F. Radel and Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye.

Policce Chief Robert F. Murphy and County Investigator Arthur Brown gave testimony as to conditions after viaduct and bridge accidents to which they

Three Ex-Governors Urge Use Of Forest Land for Northway

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Lehman, Dewey and Harriman were lined up today in bi-partisan support of Amendment Two—permission to take some of the Adirondack Forest Preserve for the Albany-Canada Northway.

The three ex-governors said in their endorsements Wednesday that an Adirondack Northway would make recreation facilities of the mountain area more accessible.

The proposed amendment to the State Constitution will be on the ballot Nov. 3. It would use 300 acres of the preserve for a link in the 175-mile superhighway.

The administration of Republican Gov. Rockefeller already has urged support of Amendment Two.

Republican Thomas E. Dewey and Democrats Herbert Lehman and Averell Harriman issued separate statements.

Dewey said approval of the amendment would provide "a safe, modern express parkway to the magnificent Adirondack Mountains."

Lehman said an Adirondack Northway would "open to thousands of downstate residents a magnificent mountain area now denied them by reason of distance and congested highways."

Harriman declared that the Adirondack route had been "carefully surveyed so as to leave inviolate areas of unusual scenic beauty."

The proposed amendment has sparked considerable controversy. Some conservation groups and other organizations are opposed to the Adirondack Northway on the ground that it would be a further invasion of the Forest Preserve, which the State Constitution guarantees shall be "forever wild."

Most of these opponents favor a route that would run along the western edge of Lake Champlain. This not involve any preserve land.

State engineers say a Lake Champlain Northway would cost 28 million dollars more than the Rival Plan on Arms May Come From U. S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Word circulated today that the United States will present a rival arms plan when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament proposal goes before the 10-nation East-West committee in Geneva.

Sources close to the U.S. delegation to the U.N. said American disarmament experts are working quietly with the State Department on a plan covering the whole arms question as well as the thorny problem of adequate controls.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge hinted some such move was afoot when he spoke in the disarmament debate before the U.N. Assembly's main Political Committee Wednesday.

Lodge noted that President Eisenhower has set in motion a concentrated disarmament review which will prepare the United States to participate "constructively" in the Geneva talks, slated to open after the Assembly ends.

Informants stressed that the United States will not present any arms plan before the General Assembly this session but will wait for the Geneva parley.

Lodge told the Assembly that some agency such as an international police force would be necessary to preserve peace after disarmament. He recommended that the U.N. Disarmament Commission try to decide what type of force would be needed and what principles of international law should govern it.

Clarkson Fund To Start Oct. 15, Goal $152,000

Approximately 1,100 Clarkson College of Technology alumni from New York to California on Thursday will kick off the alumni phase of the greater Clarkson fund.

Under the leadership of Paul D. Garvey, of New York, national chairman, and William Fiesinger, Syracuse, national vice chairman, these workers will undertake raising $152,000 as the alumni contribution toward funds that will be used for the construction of an engineering-science laboratories building.

Richard J. Whalen, of Kingston, will serve as chapter chairman for the Mid-Hudson area. His team captains will include Richard L. Walton, 20 Mountain View Avenue, Simmons Park, Saugerties and other area residents.

This is the second phase of the greater Clarkson fund campaign. The first began in 1957 when the industrial phase of the drive was activated

The Clarkson College board of trustees last Saturday authorized the construction of a 60,000 square foot building to provide modern, expanded facilities for the departments of chemistry, civil and electrical engineering at a cost of $1,500,000. This building is the structure for which the alumni funds will be used.

"Hey, mister, where'd you get that crazy Halloween mask?"

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarkets are making a big fuss over feathers and fish this week.

Many are pushing broilers, fryers and Rock Cornish hens as the week's best bargain. Those near the sea are putting extra low price tags on shrimp, scallops and other delicacies from the deep.

Cornish Hens Bargain

Heavy production of chickens has kept prices down for some time.

Rock Cornish hens, once in the luxury class, have been brought down to the bargain level with increasing frequency in recent years.

Supplies of shrimp and scallops are seasonally heavy, which accounts for their emphasis. Halibut, haddock and swordfish also are featured in some places.

Bacon is the No. 1 attraction in some places, heading a list of pork buys including loins, chops and canned hams. Steak is marked down 3 to 6 cents in a few areas, while rib roast also is lower by 4 to 10 cents a pound, but only in scattered sections.

Bargains among vegetables are headed by potatoes and onions, although both staples edged a shade higher this week.

Other Good Buys

Other outstanding bargains include sweet potatoes, spinach, cooking greens, butternut or acorn squash and endive and escarole for salad lovers. You can get good buys, too, among snap beans, cauliflower, cucumbers, green onions, radishes, broccoli and all types of cabbage.

Recognizing the glut of apples, especially from Eastern growing areas, the Department of Agriculture has designated today as the start of National Apple Week. McIntosh, Jonathan and Stayman varieties are especially cheap among the numerous bargain varieties.

Limes, bananas and pears also are rated as outstanding fruit bargains.

Police Tell About Fires

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A 13-year-old boy told police Wednesday how he set 18 fires in the two-story apartment house, where he lives, by dropping lighted newspapers in the basement window wells.

Police said the last fire routed tenants in the three-family brick building and caused an estimated $4,450 damage. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities pending Children's Court action.

Adoption Possible Now for Children In Foster Homes

All public welfare departments in the state have been advised by the State Department of Social Welfare to work cooperatively with children's courts in using new legislation to make adoption possible for children now in foster care if judicially declared "permanently neglected" and thus eligible for adoption without the consent of their parents.

Under 1959 amendments to the domestic law, the domestic relations court act of New York City, and the children's court act, court action may be instituted after the child has been under the care of an authorized child-caring agency for a year and the parents have failed in their parental obligations.

30,000 Under 18

Such children are among the approximately 30,000 children under 18 years of age who are receiving foster care in New York State at public expense. All these children are placed in foster family homes or child-caring institutions by public welfare departments and by voluntary welfare agencies and institutions that are designated by law as authorized child-caring agencies.

These children must be cared for outside their own homes because of the hospitalization, death, divorce, separation, desertion or neglect of their parents, or because of other conditions that have led to the disruption of their homes.

Most of the children receive temporary care, between one and two years. As soon as conditions permit, they are returned to their own homes; or they are placed for adoption, where that is possible. At present approximately 2,800 are placed in adoptive homes annually.

A relatively small percentage of the remaining children have been potentially eligible for adoption because nearly half of them have both parents living; nine per cent have one parent living; many of them are not readily adoptable because of age, color, physical or mental disabilities, personality disturbances, mixed racial origins, and lack of parents' consent.

Problem is Eased

The latter problem will be eased by the new legislation, although no estimate can be made of the number of children who might be affected. The State Department of Social Welfare has advised local welfare commissioners that, under the new laws, public welfare departments and other authorized child-caring agencies will have the responsibility to demonstrate to the courts that the agencies have made efforts to "encourage and strengthen the parental relationship," and will also have to inform the court of the ways in which the parents failed to participate in plans for the child or in maintaining contacts with the child.

But Not Welk

Alice Lon Makes Debut as Solo As Band Cheers

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alice Lon, cheered by most everybody in the Lawrence Welk band but the bubbly maestro himself, made her solo night club debut Wednesday night in the plush Cocoanut Grove.

The onetime Champagne Lady, who was bubbled out of the Welk group three months ago, was bothered with a touch of laryngitis but sang well—and scored a hit with the near-capacity house.

She said later that Welk didn't even send a wire of congratulations but added: "My room is filled with flowers from almost everybody else in the band."

Many of them were on hand—from trumpeter Rocky Rockwell to the Lennon sisters — to give Alice a rousing sendoff.

There had been advance reports that Alice would kick off her shoes and deliver a sexy saloon act but such was not the case. She didn't have Lawrence dancing the polka with her but otherwise the act was pretty much the same that endeared her to TV fans for the five years she sang with Welk's band.

Rockwell, not seen on the Welk show for the last three weeks, denied reports that he is the latest casualty of Welk's purges.

"I'm just on leave of absence," said the gravel - voiced singer.

Humphrey Backs Goals of UAW; Raps Ike Policy

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) today endorsed political goals of the United Auto Workers and attacked the Eisenhower administration as "a no-go, go-slow, not-now, veto and injunction government."

In a speech prepared for the UAW convention, Humphrey said the union has hammered out a "magnificent forward-looking program" including a strong civil rights proposal.

"We must have a meaningful civil rights bill," he said.

Humphrey was the third Democratic senator considered a prospect for the presidential nomination in 1960 to go before the 2,500 delegates. Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri spoke Wednesday and Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts spoke Monday.

Besides civil rights, Humphrey singled out for approval several other measures in a political action program adopted by the convention, including federal aid to education, increasing the minimum wage to $1.25 and medical care for old people.

Idle Workers Are Feeling Pinch in 93-Day Steel Halt

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The half-million striking steelworkers who haven't picked up a pay check in 13 weeks are a strike-wise, resourceful lot, but their financial positions worsen as the 93-day-old dispute lengthens.

What sources of income do they have? For the great majority the answer is "none."

Many of the family men in the steel mills learned long ago to start building up a cash reserve months before contract time rolls around. Then they try to stretch the reserve during the work stoppage.

A few — a very few — are fortunate and find part-time jobs.

In New York state, a big exception, striking workers are eligible for unemployment benefits.

But New York is the only state with such legislation. For the most part the workers are shifting for themselves. The United Steelworkers international has no strike fund; it pays the workers no benefits.

Some of the union locals, with healthy reserves, make a stab at caring for proven hardship cases. In most of those cases the locals buy food in wholesale lots and distribute it to the needy.

New Security Chiefs Appointed by Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—New chiefs of security have been appointed in three Soviet republics on the southern border of the Soviet Union.

The appointees, announced in the Kazakhstan Pravda, were Constantin Feodorovich Lunev, for Kazakhsta, which has a frontier with Communist China; Alexander V. Karadachev, Azerbaijan, which has an Iranian frontier; and Dmitri I. Pishculin, Turkmen, bordering Iran and Afghanistan.

There was no explanation for the appointments.

Spending Must Be Cut 40 Million, Rockefeller Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller says he is aiming to put state finances on a pay-as-you-go basis by next year, but he adds that expenditures must be cut by 40 million dollars.

The governor, speaking Wednesday night before the annual dinner of the Investment Bankers Assn. of America, pledged to "leave no stone unturned to achieve a pay-as-you-go status."

Despite this year's tax increases he said, the state will end the year with a gap of 133 millions between revenues and outgo—"about what I anticipated in my budget message last February."

"This gap will be financed by using most of the remainder of the capital construction reserve funds and by the sale of previously authorized bonds," Rockefeller said, adding:

"If we are to achieve pay-as-you-go there will have to approximately a $40,000,000 reduction of expenditures from this year's levels."

The governor said he has asked state departments and agencies to give him a five-year projection of capital construction requirements and operating costs. This, he said, will make it possible to avoid starting new programs that the state cannot finance.

Renew Talks Today For Mouldmaker Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The American Flint Glass Workers Union and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute sought again today to reach agreement in the month-old strike of some 2,000 moldmakers against 81 plants.

Federal Mediator William Rose resumed the negotiating sessions Wednesday after more than a week's recess. A union spokesman said both sides are holding to their original positions.

The union seeks a five per cent general wage hike. The industry has offered a three per cent increase. Moldmakers now average $2.80 an hour.

FREEDOM'S TEXTBOOK

Freedom is expressed in many ways by many people, but almost universally, freedom has been stimulated and taught in the pages of a free press—free to seek out the truth to express these facts.

Never has any part of human society been called on more consistently than the press to play a significant role in protecting the rights of individuals. Your newspaper today is not only a key to better living, but it is truly freedom's textbook.

To limit the press in its attempts to obtain accurate and factual information would be to limit your right to know—a basic concept in a free society. Despite this role, there are those who would deprive newspaper readers of this freedom.

The barring of reporters from town council meetings, legislative hearings, public committee meetings, and court trials is in a real sense an infringement on your right to know; a restriction on your newspaper's right to teach and report.

Certainly, these practices should be condemned.

But we could hardly take such a stand without first looking to ourselves and knowing full well that we practice what we advocate.

Let's take as an example our relations with our advertisers. The most important function we serve for them is in providing the circulation which gives the audience to their printed sales messages. We feel that each advertiser has a right to know all the facts about this audience before he is invited to tell his sales story through our advertising columns.

Just as the reporter should not be denied the facts on events or transactions having public interest, neither should anyone with a legitimate interest be deprived of information which is essential as a sound basis for investing his advertising dollars.

Just as we believe that complete information regarding the advertising value of this newspaper should be available to our advertisers, so do we fight for the right of our readers to be fully informed regarding subjects affecting their interests.

The press, as the recognized medium for informing the people, should be given every opportunity to obtain the facts. Only after every door closed by a public official has been opened to the press, shall we have complete freedom of information.

Only so long as this is true can your newspaper effectively serve as freedom's textbook.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

In the editorial column and on the front pages of newspapers and from the speakers' platforms, we constantly hear about the "freedom of the press."

Newspaper editors and publishers are constantly seeking ways to safeguard the "freedom of the press." There is no reason for the search to be prolonged or difficult, for the right is guaranteed under the Constitution of the United States.

"Freedom of the press" is a right which carries certain definite responsibilities with it. All that newspapers of the nation have to do to protect and preserve "freedom of the press" is to see to it that they rigorously perform the duties that the public has a right to expect of a free press.

As long as the people of this country believe that the press in fact, is free, there is no danger whatever of the newspapers losing their "freedom." If the public ever becomes convinced that the newspapers of the country are deliberately distorting the news, misrepresenting officials, or otherwise using their journals for selfish purposes, there will be no need for them to clamor about a free press.

The general public, disgusted with a sycophant press, will applaud any step taken to curb unbridled license. A decent code of ethics, a sense of responsibility and the evidence of a desire to serve the public well will go far towards preserving the "freedom of the press."

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE CONSERVATIVE TREND

After the excitement of the British elections died down, what appeared beyond doubt is that the huge majority attained by the Conservative Party was not for the party as such but for conservatism as a way of life. It is just as the French people turned to General Charles de Gaulle, the conservative, religious military officer who for years had avoided politics. It is just as when the younger men in West Germany challenged the aged Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the people supported Adenauer. True, Prime Minister Macmillar is a popular political leader, but in Great Britain so clean a sweep must mean more than personal popularity.

Just as the world is war-weary so is it weary of nostrums and cure-alls. The British Labour Party used to be led by trade unionists, by labor leaders who came up from the mines and from the docks; it has in recent years fallen into the hands of eggheads, professors of economics and of the various social sciences who dogmatically set out to change the world. Three times in succession, the Labour Party has been defeated and the third defeat shows a reluctance on the part of the voters to favor them except in certain industrial communities. However, the Conservatives could not have polled the vote they did unless workers voted for them. And that is to be noted in the United States as well; when a Republican is elected there must be labor votes to bring him in despite the opposition of the labor leaders.

In a word, it is eggheadism that has been defeated in Great Britain. We must define the term, egghead. This word came out of the recent Presidential campaigns in the United States in which Adlai Stevenson ran on the Democratic ticket. The term egghead identifies political intellectualism with the shape of Stevenson's head—which gives Stevenson a place in history and in the dictionaries. It is an association of the academic with the political, although why Stevenson should have become the prototype of the intellectual is difficult to see.

Political intellectualism in Great Britain goes back a long way. The men of the universities always played their roles in British politics. The philosopher, Thomas Hobbs, might be regarded as the father of such tendencies as express themselves in the New Deal and in the British Labour Party, namely that the power of the state is absolute as against the individual. This dogma is often interpreted as the greatest good for the greatest number, a doctrine which can grind the individual into the dust and often has. It is being combatted today in education where a search is being renewed for the bright and studious.

The early theoreticians of the British Labour Party, Beatrice and Sidney Webb, George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, and later Harold Laski were intellectuals who associated themselves with the political side of the trade union movement. Of these the greatest were the Webbs, who were philosophers of Fabian Socialism and who left a permanent mark upon British and American thought.

The trade unionist is generally not concerned so much with theories as with immediate benefits. In Great Britain, this has always been true. Because of the particular nature of the British economy, the British worker knows from long experience that his personal prosperity is entirely dependent upon the state of British trade throughout the world. Under the Macmillan government, Great Britain, for the first time since World War I, is really prosperous. For the first time in many years, British money is sound and the British do not have to worry too much about dependence upon American aid, because they are doing well on their own.

The British Labour Party, under Hugh Gaitskell, could offer the British worker nothing better than he already had. They spoke of the prosperity of Great Britain under Macmillan but they promised that they would share the wealth better. They would distribute it better. The British worker is no fool. He has had his experience with taxing capital until it runs away and he has discovered that no practical device has yet been invented to prevent money from running away. The British worker has lived through inflation and knows what a fraud and a bluff it is. He has seen the pound go down until the soundest currency of the world became a minor currency, dependent upon the American dollar. He has seen the British Empire break up.

"No, thank you!" said the British worker. "We want jobs and we want pay in good currency. We do not want the promise of heaven on Earth, because it never happens."

Of course, the American worker learned that about the New Deal, but he does not yet understand the curse of inflation.

Grandma's 'Let 'Em Catch It' Theory Had Some Merit

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It wasn't too many generations ago when grandmother deliberately exposed all young ones when the first of them caught chicken pox, regular or German measles or mumps.

By modern standards it was a crude way of immunizing children. But the reasons were sound, and the results left little to be desired. She knew the infection would spread, despite precautions.

When the kids were sick together, they kept one another company. Convalescents helped those who were still uncomfortable. The household was upset all at once instead of at intervals.

Time has proved grandma's wisdom. Each of these virus infections bestows a lifelong immunity. Attacks are much less severe and complications much less likely to occur when the patient is between the ages of 4 to 5 and 9 to 10.

Attacks are more severe and complications much more likely to occur, especially in mumps, when the patient is an adolescent or an adult.

In recent years, introduction of an effective mumps virus vaccine has somewhat changed the situation. By giving two injections, a week or so apart, contacts may be protected during the three-week period of incubation. When the vaccine is completely effective, the contact shows no sign of the disease and a third dose, injected six to 12 months later, may give lifelong protection. If the vaccine is only partially effective, the contact develops a mild and uncomplicated attack and needs no further artificial protection.

Soon there is a very promising prospect that equal success will be achieved by a virus vaccine for regular measles which presently can be reduced to a mild and uncomplicated disease by early use of injections of "measles modifier."

With the elimination of mumps and regular measles from grandma's program of naturally acquired active immunity, there remain for consideration only chicken pox and German, or Liberty, measles.

Nothing need be said for or against her procedure with regard to chicken pox. Introduced into a household, nothing will prevent each suspectible child from catching the infection. And since the disease is mild, brief and rarely complicated, it is best regarded as a necessary nuisance like the occasional scraped shin.

But German or Liberty measles is another matter. Recent observations have provided a strong basis for following grandma's program. To be sure, German measles is a mild, brief and uncomplicated disease so far as the patient is concerned.

But if the patient happens to be pregnant and in the first three months of her pregnancy, the chances are one in three that her baby will be born with some congenital defect such as a hare lip, a cleft palate, eye cataracts or heart trouble.

If she is beyond the 12th week of her pregnancy, the chances of her baby having a congenital defect is apt to be less troublesome.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Planning for another Summit conference this fall involves one fundamental problem.

When Nikita Krushchev was in Washington he revealed a consistent pattern of wanting everyone to accept world conditions as they are, without change or correction. This seemed to be his price for peace. It comes high.

When asked about Russian suppression of the Hungarian revolt, he assumed an angry, "Why bring that up?" attitude. He tried to give the impression that everything was love and kisses between Russians and Hungarians now. He did not want to talk about old "dead rat" difficulties.

On the Berlin situation, he tried to put over the idea that postwar development in Europe had led to the establishment of two German states. He considered any proposal to unite them unrealistic. He therefore advocated the signing of separate peace treaties with two Germany's.

HE REFUSED TO CONSIDER unification of Germany or unfication of Korea and Viet Nam. He refused to discuss Laos or the Chinese Communist takeover in Tibet when members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee brought them up.

He refused to consider any movement to liberate the Communist satellite nations of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Albania, Lithuania, Latvia or Esthonia.

He was extremely annoyed by U. S. observance of "Captive Nations Week" which implied they should be freed.

He wants the United Nations to admit Communist China, giving it the Security Council seat now held by the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa.

What all these things add up to is that the Russian Chairman is trying to consolidate all the gains which Communist aggression has won since the end of World War II.

All these things run counter to what has been American foreign policy in both the Eisenhower and Truman administrations. For the United States to recognize these conquests now would be a complete reversal of form.

AND YET—THERE IS SOME OPINION, more prevalent in Europe, perhaps than in this country, that the Khrushchev-Communist position is the more realistic.

The argument runs that the Chinese Nationalists aren't going to return in triumph to the mainland. The Red China-backed Communists aren't going to pull back from North Korea or North Vietnam. The Chinese Communists aren't going to pull out of Tibet, and India isn't going to make them. Also, the Russians aren't going to give up their European satellites. So why try to think this might happen?

It is pointed out that the United States recognizes any new revolutionary government that seizes power in Latin America, no matter how good an ally the old government was, or how right or left wing the new regime may be.

But the question is asked—if this policy is all right for Latin America, why shouldn't the same policy be applied across the board and throughout the world?

IT IS FURTHER POINTED OUT that the United States has let a lot of bygones be bygones in making its own postwar accommodations. The Japanese atrocities in China and the Nazi and Fascist abuses in Germany and Italy have been forgotten. These former enemies are now accepted allies.

The fallacy of this argument is that the military dictatorships of these countries were first purged of their war criminals. They were converted into practicing and successful democracies before they were made allies.

But the Communists line is that all their suppression of liberties since the end of World War II should be forgotten and that, to relax tension, a new peace should be built on conditions as they exist today—not what they were or what the West would like them to be.

Agreeing to this formula at any new Summit conference is considered impossible if the United States is to hang on to any of its old ideals.

Will Steel Deadlock Bring Compulsory Arbitration?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A tragedy in American economic life is unfolding before the country. Two big and powerful economic forces have come to grips in the steel strike, and all the influences of reason and self-restraint have thus far not been able to produce a settlement—primarily because there is no effective communication between the two sides.

The Federal government has stepped in to attempt to bring about some form of communication — some discussion that is concrete and tangible and is devoid of the sparring or fencing that so often characterizes the collective-bargaining process. The next three days will tell whether this latest move is successful.

For if what has just happened is a sample of what the American people are up against in the battle of big unionism versus big business, then indeed a grave situation confronts the nation that can inflict incalculable damage on innocent bystanders.

The fact finding board appointed by President Eisenhower, under the chairmanship of Dr. George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, an experienced arbitrator in labor disputes, has found already one depressing fact — neither side is really willing to negotiate unless certain conditions are met first. Management, according to Dr. Taylor, has been unwilling to negotiate on any wage demand that would raise steel production costs by more than 2 per cent. Labor has been adamant in demanding that there should be no change in contract provisions regarding "work rules."

This is the basis of the deadlock that has persisted all through this strike. In other years the employers have usually surrendered. This has caused labor union leaders to assume that, if they hold out long enough now, there will be another surrender. But this time it is apparent the steel companies can't surrender because they know they don't dare risk raising steel prices especially in the face of foreign competition. They know also that, if the steel settlement sets in motion a general raise in wages and prices in other industries, the net result will be to boost the costs of the materials and other products bought by the steel companies.

The steelworkers' union is in a weaker position than usual because the strike has been a costly one to their members and also, as it looks now, the 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act will be invoked. It's all well enough for the union leaders to say they'll strike again at the end of the 80-day period, but they don't really mean it. For the end of the 80 days will come in midwinter and also at a time when Congress will be in session, and the result may be the enactment of legislation along the lines of compulsory arbitration which the union does not wish to see passed.

But why can't an agreement be negotiated by reasonable men? Dr. Taylor, at the board's hearing, demanded of the labor chief, David McDonald, to reveal whether the union's position on wages was "negotiable." When he answered "Yes," the employer representative, R. Conrad Cooper, said:

"We have come all this way for Mr. McDonald to say his wage demands are negotiable. It has not been so in the meetings we have had."

Strictly speaking, the union can say now it has been willing to "negotiate" and be consistent with that it has said before, but there has always been attached an additional condition that "work rules" must not be touched.

Each side has been insisting on "pre-conditions." This means that an offer is conditioned on a concession in another category of demands.

Thus, collective bargaining has been supplanted by a deadlock in which both sides remain firm. Mediation by the federal government's trained mediators has failed. It always will if there is no compelling reason to make one side or the other or both begin to negotiate in earnest.

But must the public wait till one side wears out the other? The public interest is already threatened by the steel strike—and it can be much worse if the Great Lakes freeze soon and iron ore shipments from Minnesota and Michigan are unavailable for replenishing the low stocks of steel now in the plants.

Dr. Taylor doesn't describe his efforts as "mediation" because technically that's a task for the Federal Mediation Service. But, realistically, informal mediation is being undertaken by Dr. Taylor and the other two members of the fact-finding board. It's a tough job, and the effort will not necessarily be suspended when the Taft-Hartley injunctions are granted. Public opinion will play a part in influencing both sides to come to terms.

If this strike cannot be settled across the table, the days of collective bargaining may be numbered for big industries, and some form of compulsory arbitration, to supplement voluntary arbitration on certain issues, may be required of labor unions and management when the national interest is threatened with damage by prolonged strikes.

Advertising Has Three Important Basic Functions

By Charles T. Lipscomb, Jr.
President, Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association

Advertising in the daily newspaper serves three important functions. Every one of these functions is vital to the readers, but most of us are familiar with only one of them. That one is the information we get from newspaper advertising about products and services and where to buy them.

Even this function is not fully recognized until, because of a strike or flood or other causes, we find ourselves without a newspaper. In every case in which newspapers in a city have had to suspend publication, it has been found that advertising was one of the parts most missed by the readers.

A second major function of advertising is less obvious to the general public but well known to business and industry. Advertising is one of the primary stimulants of our economy. It makes mass production possible, creating jobs in industry while at the same time lowering the manufacturing cost per unit.

It makes selling and distribution more efficient for both manufacturers and retailers, and these savings in selling cost can be passed on to the consumer in the form of greater value for his dollar. And it creates markets for new and improved products, thus constantly raising the nation's standard of living.

The third function of advertising in your newspaper is a more subtle one, but every bit as important as the others to the well-being and progress of the nation and its individual citizens. This is the job advertising does to keep the newspaper strong and healthy, by making it financially independent.

A financially strong and healthy newspaper is able to employ an editorial staff big enough and capable enough to cover all the important news—worldwide, national and local. And it can report this news fearlessly and impartially, because it is not subject to the pressures of either politicians or advertisers.

In a recent address to top officials of the automotive industry in Detroit, Louis A. Weil Jr., publisher of the Lafayette (Ind.) Journal & Courier and board chairman of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, declared:

"A free press in a free society is the single instrument of mass communication not hamstrung or subject to governmental restriction or regulation; a buffer against the encroachments of big government, labor monopoly with socialistic objectives, thieving racketeers, the false prophets, charlatans, the dewy-eyed fuzzy-wuzzies hell bent on destroying this wonderful way of life of ours.

"We are despised by the selfish self-seekers and proud of it — and the greater the hue and cry against us by these same detractors, the more certain it is that the newspapers of America are faithfully discharging the trust incumbent upon them. This is not self-righteousness; this is assumption of responsibility, performance of service."

In order to maintain the independence necessary to dicharge this responsibility to its community and to the individual reader, the newspapers of the country are constantly hard at work to increase their revenue from advertising — national advertising, retail advertising, classified advertising.

One of the major instruments in this endeavor is the organization that Mr. Wells heads—the Bureau of Advertising.

Now 46 years old, the Bureau of Advertising has compiled an illustrious history as an agency of the newspaper publishers, charged with the job of keeping advertising revenue up to highest possible level.

The Bureau does this in two ways: 1. By demonstrating to advertisers the power of the newspaper as a seller of goods and services, and the importance of newspaper advertising to the reader. 2. By helping advertisers, in various ways, to get the most out of every dollar they invest in newspaper space.

The faith of advertisers in newspaper advertising is amply demonstrated by the fact that year after year, with few exceptions, their investments in the medium have increased substantially.

Since 1939—just two decades ago—newspaper advertising has increased from $793,000,000 to $3,120,000,000 in 1958, almost a four-fold gain. And that 1958 daily newspaper figure represents almost a third of all advertising in the country—including magazines, television, radio, outdoor, business papers, car cards, mail and dozens of miscellaneous advertising media.

Physician Held For Lie Direction OnUnlicensedGun

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — A wealthy physician, whose 15-year-old daughter accidentally shot herself trying to hide her friendship with a married Negro man, is under arrest.

Police said late Wednesday night that Dr. Max Verlot, 49, had told his daughter, Anna, to lie to investigators about the kind of gun she had used, because he had no license for the weapon.

She had told police she shot herself with a .22 caliber rifle a the Verlot home in the fashionable Long Island community of Muttontown Oct. 1.

Police accepted the story but the results of a laboratory ballistics test Wednesday disclosed that the slug taken from the girl's chest came from an automatic pistol.

They said when they confronted Dr. Verlot with the fact, he admitted in a signed statement that he had asked his daughter to lie.

State law requires licenses for pistols but not rifles.

He was charged with illegal possession of firearms and released in $500 bail.

According to the police, Verlot's daughter tried to pretend she was hurt while chasing away a burglar. In reality, police say, she was trying to cover up for Wilson Chandler, a meat market delivery man, who fled from the house at the approach of the girl's father.

Authorities gave this account:

Chandler and the girl had been seeing each other. He was having drinks at her home when they saw her father coming. Chandler broke a bedroom window, forced the screen and fled.

The girl meanwhile got the gun and ran into a bathroom. She slipped and fell and the gun fired.

Chandler, who has a 3-year-old daughter, has been charged with impairing the morals of a minor.

The Verlot girl is still at Glen Cover Community Hospital. Her condition was described as excellent.

She lives alone with her father. Her parents are estranged.

Killed by Train

WESTFIELD, N. Y. (AP)—Ramos Felix, 43, was killed by an eastbound freight train Wednesday as he walked near the plant where he worked here.

Theodore S. Morse, Chautauqua County coroner, said Felix, an employe at the Welch Grape Juice Co. plant here, was crossing the Nickel Plate Road's track which runs between parts of the plant. A certificate of accidental death was issued.

matter of FACT

In ancient Greece, cryptography—the art of writing messages that could be read only by persons knowing a certain secret—was very popular. The earliest forms of cryptograms used a strip of parchment wound around a staff in spiral form with the edges meeting. The message was written along the line formed by the joining of the spiral of parchment. It was then unwound and sent to another person who could read it only after rewinding it in a spiral on a like staff.

CHRYSLER 1960

The car of your life for the time of your life!

There have never been so many new advances . . . in any single year . . . as there are in the new Chrysler for 1960.

New Ideas in Styling. Bold, strong grille. Graceful rear deck. Clean lines sheathed in Lustre-Bond . . . the hardest automotive finish known.

New Ideas in Convenience. Chrysler offers automatic Swivel Seats . . . pushbutton controls. Three-dimensional AstraDome houses instruments.

New Ideas in Comfort. The driver's seat has been raised . . . padded with extra foam rubber. There's more leg, knee, hip and head room.

New Ideas in Reliability. Body and frame are built as a single, rattle-free Unibody. Stronger, quieter, roomier. A new dipping process locks rust out of vital areas.

Get touching close to this new Chrysler soon. Compare its fresh beauty with other cars. See how Chrysler has actually built in more room while other cars continue to be cramped. Then take it out on the road and have the time of your life!

New AstraDome Control Center. Three-dimensional dome projects instruments toward the driver . . . makes them easy to read. At night, new Panelescent lighting gives reflection-free illumination.

This new Swivel Seat is Automatic. Open the door and the seat swings out to greet you automatically! When you leave the car it automatically swings inside. Chrysler's High-Tower seat adds driver comfort.

This is Chrysler's greatest . . . lion-hearted

Commerce Ad Is Criticized as Plug for Rocky

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Taxpayers are unknowingly footing the cost of advertising designed to further Gov. Rockefeller's "presidential ambitions," State Democratic Chairman Michael Prendergast declared.

The Democratic official told local party candidates in Western New York Wednesday night that "hard-earned" tax dollars were "going to support plush ads in rich men's magazines to further Rockefeller's presidential ambitions."

He was protesting a national advertising campaign in which the State Commerce Department, urging industrialists to establish plants here, describe the Rockefeller administration as one of "hard-hat doers."

Rockefeller's Albany office said it would have no comment on Prendergast's statement. The governor will fly to Chicago Monday to attend a meeting of the civil defense committee of the Governors' Conference and will meet Tuesday with a young Republicans group there.

The Commerce Department said the advertisement referred to by Prendergast was being handled by a New York City firm, with the theme being a metal safety helmet of a type worn by construction workers.

In the ads, the department added, the hat is described "as the perfect symbol of the new spirit in New York."

Meanwhile, in Oneida Wednesday night, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson said there had been a dramatic improvement in the business climate of New York since Rockefeller took office. He said several major and small industries have since decided to build or expand in this state.

"This is the businessman's way of telling us he has regained confidence in the future of New York," Wilson told a Chamber of Commerce meeting.

YMCA News

Parties Scheduled

Frank Rebollo, Kingston Y.M.C.A. youth director, is completing preparations for three annual Hallowe'en parties to be held at the association building, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30 and 31.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade party will be held Friday, Oct. 30 from 7:15 p. m. until 11 p. m. On Saturday from 9:30 a. m. until 12 noon the boys party will be held and on Oct. 31 from 7:30 p. m. until midnight, the open house party will be held.

Featuring the parties will be guessing and dance contests, refreshments and a real Hallowe'en atmosphere will prevail. Awards will be made to winners of each event, and top awards will go to those wearing the best costumes, which will be judged on the most original, the funniest and the nicest looking.

Plan Mock Assembly

The Hi-Y clubs are now preparing bills for the Youth and Government Assembly to be held in Goshen on Veteran's Day, Nov. 11. The Kingston Hi-Y Club will hold a mock assembly on Wednesday, Oct. 28, at the court house where they will review their bills to be presented at the Goshen session. Lewis DiDona and Jess McHugh will act as resource persons to the Kingston Hi-Y Clubs.

300 Attend Dance

Three hundred teen-agers attended the after game "Y" dance last Friday night, following the Kingston-New Rochelle game.

The YMCA youth center will open Friday, Oct. 16 at 7:30 p. m. for sixth, seventh and eighth grade students. This will be their first dance of the 1959-1960 season. The social will conclude at 10 p. m. All students of the three grades are welcome to attend. Proper dress is required of those attending the weekly dances.

Officers Elected

The Hi-Y Clubs of the Hudson Valley elected officers for 1959-1960 recently at a session held in the Poughkeepsie YMCA. Delegates from the Kingston Hi-Y clubs were, Thomas Dunham and Leo Weber of the Bookwalter Hi-Y; John Robert and Jeffrey Davis of the Excelsiors Hi-Y with their advisor Dale Natoli; Judy Terpening and Donna Rieho of the Filia Hi-Y; and Roberta Utenveldt, Barbara Williams and Patricia Nash of the Avend Star Hi-Y club. Youth Director Frank Rebollo took the voting delegation to Poughkeepsie.

Judges Reserve On Income Tax Evasion Appeal

NEW YORK (AP) — Three judges of the U. S. Court of Appeals have reserved decision on an appeal against the income tax evasion conviction of a Niagara Falls, N. Y., accountant.

Raymond A. O'Connor was convicted a second time two years ago for evading payment of $108,601. The case has been in the courts since 1953.

Decision on the appeal was reserved Wednesday by Judges Charles F. Clark, Leonard Moore and J. Joseph Smith.

Attorneys for O'Connor and the U. S. attorney's office in Buffalo presented oral arguments and submitted briefs and supporting documents.

O'Connor originally was convicted six years ago on four counts of evading payment on 1946-49 taxes. A new trial was ordered after the verdict was reversed on technicalities.

He was again convicted in 1957, sentenced to five years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

He is free on bail pending decision on his appeal.

Erie Has 5th Polio Death

TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP) — Erie County's fifth polio death of the year was reported Wednesday.

County Health Commissioner William E. Mosher said the death of an 8-year-old boy here Tuesday had been attributed to bulbar polio.

Eat and See

PINE BROOK, N. J. (AP) — Bargain rates in dining are a new attraction offered to theater patrons here. A night-out package has been developed in which showgoers can have a pre-play dinner at one of several restaurants at a combined minimum of $4.95.

$10,000 Estate Left by Pisano

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Little Augie Pisano, racketeer who was slain last Sept. 25, left an estimated estate of no more than $10,000.

This was disclosed Wednesday in a petition for administration filed in Nassau County Surrogate's Court by his widow Lillian.

Pisano and Mrs. Janice Drake, wife of night club comic Alan Drake, were shot to death while driving near LaGuardia Airport in Pisano's car.

Unexpected Dip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Berquist couldn't understand why his wife and child, who had been watching him water ski from his auto on the beach, suddenly joined him in the water and were waving frantically. Then he noticed the car was underwater. The baby had loosened the hand brake. Both were rescued.

$290,320 Missing

Bank Officer Is Accused by FBI In Big Shortage

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Authorities kept mum today about what became of $290,320 they accused a bank official of misapplying.

Federal agents charged James Cook Evans, 52, thin-haired, quiet and mild, in the case Wednesday but refused to disclose many details. He waived preliminary hearing and went free under only $2,500 bond.

The money disappeared in the past two years, investigators said, from the First National Bank in Dallas, one of the city's largest. Evans was an assistant vice president and had worked there since 1925.

Ben H. Wooten, president of the bank, said he understood the shortage involved five other men and a wildcat oil drilling project. No other bank employe had anything to do with the shortage, he said.

The FBI charged Evans specifically with a false entry in bank records crediting a nonexistent $3,000 deposit. Evans had no comment.

"The misapplication came about through the making of fictitious deposits and the paying and concealing of drafts drawn for collection," Wooten said.

Fidelity bonds covered the full amount of the loss, the bank president said.

Other employes discovered a shortage Tuesday when illness kept Evans off the job, and the bank notified the FBI. Evans was fired.

First Chance

NEW YORK (AP) — Loring Mandel, a 31-year-old television writer, is getting his first chance at Broadway play-scripting with a best-seller novel. Mandel was chosen by Allen Drury, author of "Advise and Consent," and the producing team of Robert Fryer-Lawrence Carr to do the adaptation. The project is scheduled for next season.

Ike Salutes Press of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zeal and accuracy in the nation's newspapers are needed to "make history move steadily forward in the direction of freedom and justice," President Eisenhower says.

In a statement issued for the 20th annual observance of National Newspaper Week, which begins today, the President said: "Your newspaper—freedom's textbook" is a "fine theme for this year's observance. To me, it stands for the hopes and achievements of American journalism.

"As our editors report the daily affairs of their communities with zeal and accuracy, they help to supply our citizens with the lessons of history, together with the information which is required to make history move steadily forward in the direction of freedom and justice.

"I am delighted to add my best wishes for the success of National Newspaper Week."

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club today called off this year's running of the Pimlico Special after it failed to arrange a duel between Hillsdale and Sword Dancer.

2 Teacher Cases Put Over to 29th

City Judge Aaron E. Klein today adjourned until Oct. 29 disorderly conduct cases lodged against two school teachers after they were found by police in a boxcar on a railroad spur off Fair Street Extension last Sunday morning.

Defendants were identified by police as Gerald R. Fisher, 56, of 115 Laurel Place, Utica, treasurer of the Empire State Division of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, and Michael L. Pinkosz, 29, of 102 Cedar Street, who told police he is presently unemployed.

Pinkosz, a student at New York State University Teachers College, New Paltz, had been a practice teacher at George Washington School here until suspension pending the outcome of his case, according to a local school authority.

Howard C. St. John, attorney for Fisher, and Sherwood E. Davis, counsel for Pinkosz, appeared in court and requested the adjournment of two weeks. Both attorneys waived the reading of informations filed against the defendants by Patrolmen Francis Buchanan and Richard Scherer.

Judge Klein continued the defendants on bail of $100 each.

The Liberty Bell's famous crack occurred July 8, 1835, while it was tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Esopus Democrats Will Hold Rally Saturday Night

Regular monthly meeting of the Town of Esopus Democratic Club was held Monday night in the Town Hall, Port Ewen, during which it was reported the annual membership drive is being conducted and letters have been mailed for the "Dollar for Democrats Fund Drive."

Democratic headquarters for the Town of Esopus are open on Broadway in Port Ewen. It was reported that the public address system being used throughout the town for the forthcoming campaign was donated by Zale Liese of Port Ewen.

A Democratic rally will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Town Hall, Port Ewen. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Standby to Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee Grant, a standby for a year, has taken over the feminine role in the dual part hit, "Two for the Seesaw."

Miss Grant replaces Anne Bancroft. Lee purposely watched only one performance during her long wait in the wings.

"If you like someone terribly in the role, as I did Anne," she says, "there is a real danger of picking up something not your own."

Rotary Institute Here Wednesday

The Kingston Rotary Club was host Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel to the 35 Rotary Clubs comprising District 721 of Rotary International at a one-day institute on Rotary information and extension.

President Adrian Kaplan welcomed the large delegations from Rotary Clubs in the eight counties. The institute was presided over by District Governor Harris E. Dexter.

The institute was conducted by Pierre J. J. Pellaton, who is Rotary information and extension counselor for 1959-60. He is a past president of the Port Washington Club and was governor of District 725.

Under the general heading of "Friendship Organized for Action," discussions were held on vitalizing your club, personalizing your service and building bridges of friendship.

Group discussions also were held on how a better understanding and use of membership provisions can inject more vitality into a club and how each member can be persuaded to accept personal responsibility for club vitality and growth.

There also were refresher courses on membership provisions and the club's constitution and by-laws.

Buffalo Dispute Over Hospital-Union Renews

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The long battle between the AFL-CIO here and 11 area non-profit hospitals has gathered new fury with union charges that one hospital pressured employes into boycotting a union meeting.

The AFL-CIO hospital organizing committee charged that Columbus Hospital officials "coerced and intimidated" employes into staying away from a special union meeting for them across the street Wednesday.

Only 6 at Meeting

Only six of the hospital's 70 non-professional employes attended the meeting, the union said.

The union has been trying to organize the 4,000 housekeeping workers at the hospitals since early last summer. A strike had been threatened but called off at the request of the city.

One voluntary hospital, our Lady of Victory in nearby Lackawanna, has since recognized the union. The others said a union was out of place in non-profit hospitals.

Wednesday, James L. Kane and Frank Ervolino of the AFL-CIO committee said they had learned Columbus Hospital threatened to discharge workers who attended the meeting.

Says Charge Untrue

Dr. Rosario Gullo, administrator at Columbus Hospital said the charge was "untrue" and denied knowledge of the meeting.

He said the hospital "is doing the best it can" with $1-per-hour minimum wage, 40-hour week, grievance procedures, and a periodic review of wages and working conditions.

The hospitals announced this program after refusing to recognize the union.

The union had demanded recognition and collective bargaining and in July threatened a strike similar to the 46-day walkout by New York City hospital employes earlier last summer.

Mayor Frank A. Sedita got union officials to postpone the strike, saying he would arrange for hospital and union heads to meet later.

The mayor suggested such a meeting last week but the hospitals declined to attend, stating they doubted it would be of any value.

U.S. Scientists Get Nobel Awards

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Two American scientists were awarded this year's Nobel prize in medicine for pioneer research into the basic mechanisms of heredity.

They are Dr. Severo Ochoa of the New York University college of medicine and Dr. Arthur Kornberg of Stanford University, California.

The decision was taken by the Swedish Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine and Physiology this afternoon.

Prize Worth $42,606

The prize this year is worth 220,700 Swedish crowns—$42,606. The money comes from trusts set up under the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite. The prizes first were awarded in 1901 and are given for chemistry, physics, literature, as well as in the field of medicine and physiology. In addition there is the Nobel Peace Prize.

Americans also won the prize for medicine last year. They were George Beadle, Edward Tatum and Joshua Lederberg, for their work in genetics.

The work of Dr. Ochoa and Dr. Kornberg centered on the chemical structural pattern of heredity, notably the key substances of DNA — DesoxyriboNucleic Acid; and RNA—RiboNucleic Acid.

Native of Spain

The Caroline Institute said in its official citation that the two American scientists were awarded the prize "for their discoveries of the mechanisms in the biological synthesis of RiboNucleic Acid and DesoxyriboNucleic Acid."

Dr. Ochoa, 54, is a native of Luarca, Spain.

Kornberg, 41, was born in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Two of the Best

The Caroline Institute, which gave half the prize to each man, said it was honoring "two of the best biochemists of the present time in their most active age."

In reporting findings in 1955, Dr. Ochoa, head of biochemistry at New York University's college of medicine and head of a team of experimenters in that school, said the process involves joining small molecules into chains, like beads on a string. Ochoa's group was believed to be the first to put them together in a chain outside a living organism.

Ochoa reportedly took substances from living sewage cells to build the molecules. The bacteria substances are generally called enzymes and can facilitate complex chemical reactions. DNA is a main component of chromosomes and genes, the carriers of hereditary traits.

In 1957, Dr. Kornberg, at that time associated with Washington University in St. Louis reported on his team findings in the same field at the annual meeting in Chicago of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

He reported that the DNA in the test-tube appeared to be the same as that found in all living things.

Indication on Bridge

The state has indicated that the viaduct elimination project, if approved, would include replacement of the narrow Esopus Creek bridge.

Former Mayor Stang said that he spoke as a former city official, in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club, and as an interested citizen. He asked that the PSC issue an elimination order as early as possible and not wait until a time near completion of the arterial route project now under way. The state has indicated that it will study the viaduct problem as soon as the other project is finished.

'Not Wide Enough'

"I think it could be well characterized as a death trap," he said near the start of his testimony," and later, when Attorney Schue asked if he could estimate the width of the Esopus Creek bridge, he said he could not and drew applause when he added: "It's not wide enough, I know that."

Several photographs showing conditions after viaduct accidents were placed on record.

Stang said he wanted to re-emphasize for the record part of Examiner Knapp's opinion when he issued official notice that the 1954 hearing was "closed without prejudice."Knapp had agreed, his opinion noted, that conditions would be less dangerous in re-establishing the crossing at grade, than they were now on the viaduct. He held, though, that elimination of the viaduct should include elimination of the Esopus Creek bridge.

Among letters offered for the record from state and other officials, was one from Kurt G. Rauer, state district engineer at Poughkeepsie, in which he said he had recommended that the viaduct and bridge projects be placed on the state's active planning program.

Stang stressed that the former O&W Railroad no longer existed and the mountain branch of the New York Central has trains operating only every other day. He urged the PSC to issue the elimination order "in the interest of public safety and for free and unhampered movement of traffic.

The viaduct area of Washington Avenue, he said, would continue to carry traffic to and from the uptown area of the city after completion of the arterial route and it was an outlet for Route 209 travel.

The biggest trouble with political jokes is they sometimes get elected.

Campaign Opened By Sterley for Jones, Conrad

The two Republican candidates for top city posts in the November election are "entirely new to the political arena," Former Surrogate John B. Sterley, chairman of the Republican City Committee, told a radio audience Wednesday evening.

He pointed out that both Addison Jones, candidate for mayor, and Gerald Conrad, candidate for alderman-at-large, were newcomers to the field of politics, neither having ever run for public office.

"These men were recommended to the enrolled voters by the delegates at the unofficial city convention and were nominated for their respective offices at the recent primary election. The convention was an open one, and was not boss controlled. Boss controlled government is not my policy."

He promised that Jones, a local dairyman, and Conrad, who is employed by IBM, would conduct a campaign of the type what will "hold the respect of the people of the City of Kingston. The Republican party is a party of action and accomplishment and not one of unfilled promises which are made only for the purpose of alluring the voters."

He also urged his listeners to give their support to the Republican candidates for alderman and supervisor in the various wards of the city, describing them as "able, efficient and well qualified for the office to which they have been nominated.

He pointed out that it was "equally important that the Common Council of our city be composed of a Republican majority as well as the Board of Supervisors of the county.

"Lastly I urge your unqualified support of our candidates for county offices, namely, Hon. Francis X. Tucker for surrogate, Claude Bell for sheriff and Michael Galietta for coroner. Judge Tucker is now serving as our surrogate, having been recently appointed by Governor Nelson Rockefeller. Claude Bell, candidate for sheriff, and Michael Galietta, candidate for coronor are running again to succeed themselves and deserve to be returned to office, having served the county of Ulster well in their present position.

Funeral and Mass For John Finerty Largely Attended

The largely attended funeral for John J. Finerty, principal of Kingston School No. 5 was held Wednesday 9:30 a. m. from Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street, and St. Joseph's Church where at 10 a. m. a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of the church. The deacon was the Rev. James V. Keating and sub-deacon, the Rev. William Williams. Seated in the chancel during the Mass were the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, and the Rev. Francis X. Toner.

Died Saturday Night

Mr. Finerty, a past commander of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, died suddenly in this city Saturday night.

Included among the many who attended the Mass were members of Kingston Board of Education, (Consolidated); principals from many of the Kingston public schools; the entire teaching staff of School No. 5, and many students of the school. The morning sessions at School No. 5 were suspended in order that the students and teachers could attend the Mass.

The children's choir sang "Domine Jesu Christi" at the offertory and "In Paradisum" at the conclusion of the Mass. The Star Spangled Banner was played in tribute to his service during World War 1.

During the bereavement hundreds called at the funeral home to pay their respects and to offer prayers.

Officers and members of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, held ritualistic services Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Father Keating led those assembled in the funeral chapel in the recitation of the Holy Rosary at 8 p. m. Members of the board of education and Superintendent of Schools Earl F. Soper also visited the chapel Tuesday evening.

Educators Call at Home

Wednesday at 8:15 p. m. the administrative staff of the consolidated school system including principals of Kingston public schools and other outside areas called in a group at the funeral home.

Members of the clergy who called and offered prayers were: the Rt. Rev. Monsignori Martin J. Drury, PA, VF; Joseph D. Ostermann, Austin V. Carey, Stephen P. Connelly; the Rev. Francis Meehan, CSsR; the Rev. Alfred Sieradski, CSsR; the Rev. William Barry, CSsR of Mt. St. Alphonsus, and Fathers Farrelly, Toner and the Rev. William V. Reynolds.

Scores of Mass cards and many floral tributes were placed near the flag-draped casket in the chapel.

Bearers were Walter Byrnes, Everett Pelham, Lucien Celello, Orrin DeGraff, William Reardon, and Vincent Finerty.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Msgr. Drury, assisted by Fathers Farrelly, Toner and Williams, gave the final absolution at the grave.

Welch Acquitted Ending Vermont's Vigilante Trial

CHELSEA, Vt. (AP)—Robert O. Welch of Newbury was acquitted of murder today by a directed verdict which ended Vermont's vigilante trial.

Judge Natt L. Divoll Jr. told the jury he and the two side judges, who, under Vermont law, sit with the court, had concluded unanimously the case should be ended at this point after defense had rested without calling a witness.

Judge Divoll explained to the jurors that the court first denied a defense motion for a directed verdict but decided to order one on a renewed motion filed after defense counsel Henry Black announced he would present no testimony.

Welch, 46, a school janitor, was indicted along with Frank W. Carpenter, 43, for the slaying of Orville A. Gibson, 47, prosperous Newbury dairy farmer.

Carpenter was not on trial with Welch. He is scheduled for a separate trial.

The state charged in court that Welch was one of a group of Newbury men who set on a vigilante action to punish Gibson for beating his farmhand, Eri Martin, 57, for spilling two cans of milk.

matter of FACT

Paul Revere, famous for his midnight ride from Boston to Lexington on April 18, 1776, was probably the most famous American silversmith. He made gunpowder, false teeth, church bells, the boiler plates for Robert Fulton's steamboat and planned and engraved the first bank notes for Congress. But by trade he was a silversmith. More than 60 pieces of his fine work are extant.

Rocky Expands Advisory Board On Wage Scales

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An advisory board that helps set wage scales on public works projects was expanded by Gov. Rockefeller from six to nine members today.

He acted under a 1959 law that authorized the increase when necessary to facilitate work of the Advisory Board on Prevailing Rate of Wages on Public Work.

Adds Five Members

The governor reappointed four members of the former, six-member panel and added a total of five new members.

The board assists the Labor Department's Bureau of Public Work. It determines, through surveys, the prevailing wages in construction trades in all parts of the state.

Construction companies working under public contracts from state or local governments must pay wages equivalent to those prevailing in the county in which they are working.

The new members of the board are: Paul W. Ward, professor-emeritus at Syracuse University; Mayor Addison Mallery of Saratoga Springs, executive secretary of the State Conference of Mayors; and the Rev. Benjamin Kuhn of Siena College, all representing the public; Walter H. Maxim of (197 Stone St.) Watertown, president of the Watertown Building Trades Council, representing labor, and Harris C. Warren of Syracuse, counsel to the State Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America, representing employes.

Hanover Renamed

Renamed were Harold C. Hanover, president of the State AFL-CIO and Howard Dalton of Rochester, Upstate supervisor for the International Brotherhood of Operating Engineers, Leon B. Kromer of Delmar, executive secretary of the Albany Builders Exchange and Peter E. Eller of New York City, an officer of the Building Employers Assn. of New York City.

Members of the board serve at the governor's pleasure. They receive $29.55 a day for attending meetings.

In other action, the governor reappointed two men to positions on the boards of two state educational institutions.

Lester C. Higbee of Troy was reappointed to the board of trustees of Hudson Valley Technical Institute in Troy and Peter J. Lehman of Snyder was renamed to the board of Erie County Technical Institute in Buffalo.

Both posts are unsalaried.

Reader Is Advised Never To Buy Stocks on Rumors; Get Facts or New Broker

Q. From Connecticut, "I have bought a few stocks in the past year that I'm not happy about my broker is a nice chap, but I'm afraid he's rather excitable. He calls me regularly to tell me that somebody important is moving into such-and-such a situation, that another stock is rumored to be set for a merger, or that still another is reported ready to split. I bought into all of these issues and none of the actions he mentioned has taken place. How would you handle this situation?"

A. I think you should tell your broker that you're unhappy about your purchases; also, that if he wants to keep your business, he'll have to stick to facts and stop feeding you tips. Almost all rumors and tips are false, and the reason is a cinch. Strong companies rarely allow leaks about their future plans, although insider buying sometimes reveals them. A good broker is backed up by an analytical department which is always sorting and sifting information to come up with some logical assumptions on the basis of careful study. I believe that in this matter, you are almost as culpable as your broker. You tried to make some easy profits without thorough investigation, and money simply isn't made that way in the stock market.

READER LIKES UTILITIES

Q. From Indiana, "I have always liked the utility stocks. For a conservative fellow, I haven't done too badly. I know these issues are down some in price and would like your advice as to whether they're now a good buy."

A. Utilities have such a well-defined growth curve and are so secure as to dividends, that their price level is determined largely by money rates. When money rates are high, the institutions tend to sell them, or at least refrain from buying. I believe that money conditions are likely to remain unchanged for some time to come. The Government's recent sale of 4 year notes appears to have been tremendously successful. This may mean that government issues will stabilize which would help the bond market and indirectly give a lift to the utilities.

NO BROAD MOVES SEEN

I don't look for any broad move either way for the group. Many of my favored issues, however, are at levels that two years hence will probably look pretty good in retrospect. It is worth remembering that there are defensive qualities to the utilities. They rise less in a bull market, but they resist strongly any general decline. Now let's look at some issues.

GROWTH AREAS FAVORED

Where income is not paramount, I believe the best utilities are those that serve the fastest growing areas. In this category, I include American Electric Power which serves the industrial Middle West. American Electric has just raised its dividend, which makes 12 years in a row that this has happened. I like Southern Company, operating in the states of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Florida. The shares have doubled in price since 1957. I would certainly consider Arizona Public Service, Florida Power & Light, and Texas Utilities; also Central & South West, which has just announced a proposed 2-for-1 stock split.

CHRYSLER LOOKS UNDERVALUED

Q. From L., Ohio, "My broker has suggested Chrysler as a good buy for 1960 profits. What is your opinion?"

A. I go along with your broker on this one. Chrysler earnings this year are estimated at $7-$8 a share and the stock seems to me to be undervalued. Chrysler sells 32% below its 1955 high level and well below its best prices of 1957. Its major competitors, Ford and General Motors, have seen their stocks go to record highs recently. Chrysler has spent $350 million on substantial re-tooling and re-modeling and, in my opinion, is in for a very good year in 1960.

investigation. He got the job after his TV appearances.

In testimony before a New York County grand jury last year Van Doren denied getting help while a contestant. He repeated this later by telegram to the Washington subcommittee.

However, he declined to reaffirm these statements.

The committee also plans to hear testimony about CBS's $64,000 Question, first of the big-money quiz programs.

Others Defend Shows

A statement by counsel Robert W. Lishman in Washington that the subcommittee has information that the show was rigged brought a flood of statements from former participants on that program and a companion show, the $64,000 Challenge.

Among defenders of the first show were former contestants Tom Kane of Buffalo, N.Y., and Myrt Power of Buford, Ga.

Kane said, "To my knowledge the shows I appeared on were absolutely beyond reproach." Mrs. Power said, "If somebody had been giving out the answers I wouldn't have stopped at $32,000."

whether he plans to seek the presidential nomination.

In recent weeks, he has scheduled a series of out-of-state visits. These apparently are designed to test his popularity in the various areas he visits.

Rockefeller will address a meeting of the World Affairs Council in Los Angeles Nov. 12 and speak at a meeting of the Press and Union League Club in that city the following day. On Nov. 14 he will speak at Willamette College in Salem, Ore.

To Meet Hatfield

He also plans to address the New England Society of Newspaper Editors at Providence, R. I., Nov. 20.

Ro kefeller said that Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon was a close friend and he definitely planned to meet with him.

In a lengthy, off-the-cuff statement to reporters, Rockefeller explained that he felt that New York government affairs were moving smoothly enough to allow him time enough for the out-of-state visits.

"I have devoted myself with tremendous intensity in the past eight months to the organization of the new administration in this state," Rockefeller said.

Studying Problems

He said various studies in problem areas were taking shape and he would draft specific recommendations for the 1960 Legislature.

The governor added that he had stayed close to his desk and described this as "somewhat unique among elected officials."

He had said previously that state business would require most of his attention and he had no plans for extensive out-of-state trips.

His top advisers reportedly have been urging him to visit California in counter-efforts being made in New York State in support of Nixon.

Nixon has not yet declared his formal candidacy. But he is generally considered the leading candidate for the GOP nomination. Rockefeller is seen as the only strong challenger.

Rockefeller did not specify what national or international issues he would discuss on his West Coast trip.

Adirondack route. Supporters of the Lake Champlain route dispute that figure.

Another of the nine proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot will be Number Six—to permit the Legislature to transfer the state's Barge Canal System to the federal government.

The Republican leaders of the Legislature issued a statement today saying that confusion and misunderstanding had arisen concerning the amendment.

Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader, and Joseph F. Carlino, Assembly speaker, did not say specifically that they supported the amendment.

But they pointed out that, if the amendment were approved, all interested parties would have the opportunity to discuss the future of the Barge Canal before the Legislature took any final action.

Mahoney and Carlino said New York taxpayers were paying 8½ million dollars a year to operate and maintain the canal system.

"All other inland waterways are operated by the federal government. New York State taxpayers also contribute to the cost," they said.

Committees Are Named for Nov. 5 Keresman Dinner

Deputy Chief Burnham Armstrong of Rotterdam, president of the Northeastern Police Conference, has named Raymond E. Ball of Utica PBA as dinner chairman for the testimonial dinner which the Conference will tender Peter Keresman at the Governor Clinton Hotel Nov. 5.

Former Kingston police officer Keresman, who retired two years ago as executive secretary of the Police Conference of New York State, had served in that capacity for 23 years.

400 Persons Expected

Armstrong said about 400 people are expected to honor Keresman who was instrumental in gaining legislation in favor of police officers over the years he served as executive secretary of the State Police Conference.

Others named to committees by Armstrong are: John R. Crispino, president of the Kingston PBA, dinner vice-chairman along with Anthony Olivo of Poughkeepsie PBA as vice-chairman.

Appointed to serve on the general committee are:

Others to Serve

Charles McAndrews, Watervliet PBA; William Murray, Troy PBA; Lester Ramsdill, Saratoga Springs PBA; Frank Coriale, Utica PBA; Casimir Krul, New York Mills PBA; William Brodzik, Yorkville PBA; Ernest Carota, Glens Falls PBA; Stanley Baginski, Schenectady PBA; Harold Kaffata, Whitesboro PBA; Irwin Stinger, Castleton-on-Hudson PBA.

Also William Stanek, Scotia PBA; Francis W. VanGeenhoven, Colonie PBA; Worden Masten, New Paltz PBA; Monroe Fox, New Hartford PBA; Louis Brenner, Hudson PBA; Bruce Manell, Hudson Falls PBA; Michael Gisondi, Canajoharie PBA; Anthony DeVito, Mechanicsville PBA and Mario Gilbert, Clinton PBA. All are presidents of their individual units.

Armstrong also reported that Deputy Chief Anthony Laino of Utica will be dinner and hotel arrangements chairman, assisted by Patrolman John LaMalfa of Rotterdam. Ticket chairman will be Philip Arcuri of Utica, secretary-treasurer of the Northeastern group, which is a section of the statewide Police Conference.

Slate Dedication Of Hospital Wing At Poughkeepsie

Blessing and dedication of the new south wing to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York will take place Sunday, Nov. 29, at 3 p. m., it was announced by Sister Julia Marie, hospital administrator.

The new hospital structure, costing upwards of $2,500,000 will add 72 beds to the present hospital facilities, including 15 beds for emotionally disturbed patients and 30 beds for those chronically ill.

It also will provide a new dining hall for employes, seating approximately 300 persons. In addition, it will provide for six new air-conditioned operating suites, together with other related services, including a 14-bed recovery room for post-operative care.

New completed laboratory facilities will also be made available. Total hospital hed capacity, when the new wing is completed will be 251.

According to Joseph W. DuMoulin, project manager, Eggers & Higgins, architects, New York City, the structure is at present 90 per cent completed, and is expected to be ready for full patient service and occupancy by January 1.

Joyce-Schirick Post Asks Help To Retain Camp

Members of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, went on record at a meeting Tuesday night as opposing the proposed closing of the Camp McGregor veterans convalescent camp for conversion into a camp for juvenile delinquents.

The veterans rest camp is in Saratoga County, and it has been reported under consideration as a possible rehabilitation center for young offenders.

Commander George F. Schatzel of Post 1386 stated that veterans would like to enlist the help of all citizens in Ulster County to write Senator Ogden E. Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson urging them to oppose the proposed conversion. The commander stated Camp McGregor is needed for sick veterans, particularly veterans of World War I.

George Hubbard, superintendent at Camp McGregor told the Associated Press there were 350 patients there now, almost capacity, and he said the camp is used all year and usually is full.

Hurley Planners Meet at Library

There will be a meeting of the Town of Hurley Planning Board at the Old Hurley Library at 7:30 p. m. Monday rather than at the firehall as originally announced.

In addition to the regular order of business there will be a public hearing on the application of Krovan Homes to open an additional section of its development.

Heart Attack Is

was taken by ambulance to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Protege Under Sedation

Miss Aadland, who rode to the hospital in the ambulance, was placed under sedation.

"Women," said Flynn on his arrival here six days ago, "well, that speaks for itself. I like young women because they give you a feeling of youth."

He came to negotiate for the sale of his $100,000 yacht Zaca. Caldough reportedly was interested in the luxury vessel.

Flynn's dashing manner both on and off the screen raised the blood pressure of feminine admirers and male rivals. It also brought him headlines — headlines he said he wanted to avoid.

"The search for anonymity has been my true failure," he maintained.

Married Three Times

The actor was married three times. He was separated from his current wife Patrice Wymore, who is appearing at a Washington, D.C., night club.

She burst into tears when told of Flynn's death and said, "Please, I'm sorry, I can't say anything."

She was to fly to Los Angeles today.

Life A Storybook

Flynn's life had a storybook beginning in the Australian island state of Tasmania and the plot thickened as the years passed.

His latest real-life drama took place in Cuba, where he claimed he was wounded while fighting with the forces of Fidel Castro. His wound was played down by the rebels as was the extent of his activities. Flynn, however, played it to the hilt and wrote a series of articles about his Cuban adventures.

He always played to his public. He said he had made seven million dollars as a swashbuckling actor and he enjoyed spending it.

"I have a great talent for spending," he said. "The public has always expected me to be a playboy, and a decent chap never lets his public down."

Many Spending Sprees

His spending sprees took him to cafes and night clubs where the evening often ended with Flynn swinging his fists instead of a sword. He got into a Havana cafe free-for-all in 1937, was slapped by Canadian millionaire Duncan McMartin in a Nassau bar in 1954 and traded blows with such people as director John Huston, columnist Jimmy Fidler, Dan Topping and others.

Flynn was born June 29, 1909, in Hobart, Tasmania, where his father and mother were cruising on a marine biological study. His father, Prof. Theodore Thompson Flynn of Queens College, Belfast, Ireland, was an authority on ocean life.

Flynn inherited his father's love of the sea and some of his most famous escapades reportedly took place aboard yachts.

Legends grew up of Flynn's early life. He ran away several times, was said to have been forcibly enlisted to put down a native revolt during a New Guinea gold rush and was remembered by some as an oyster pirate.

Many Major Films

His first acting was done in the South Seas. He then went to London where he was seen by a Warner Brothers talent scout. Stardom came in "Captain Blood."

Among his other major movies were "Green Light," "Charge of the Light Brigade," "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex," "Against All Flags," "Edge of Darkness," "Dive Bomber," "Objective Burma," "The Adventures of Don Juan," "The Sea Hawk," and "Gentleman Jim."

Evacuate Arroyo

of La Canada. But flames were only a mile or so from other expensive homes today, and a burst of the whismical wind could put them in genuine peril.

Families were standing by for a possible evacuation of Briggs Terrace, an area above the community of La Crescenta and about 15 miles north of downtown Los Angeles.

Several hundred persons, including actor Dennis Morgan, were driven from their homes above La Canada Tuesday night. The $100,000 mansion of contractor Guy F. Atkinson was listed as 50 per cent lost and several other homes were less seriously damaged.

Lab Not in Jeopardy

Southeast of La Canada, the fire was headed toward Altedena, above Pasadena, but homes there were not in immediate danger. Flames were about a mile from Caltech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, but the space research facility was not in jeopardy.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and rails spurted on hope that the steel strike may be settled without recourse to the Taft-Hartley Act and the stock market was substantially higher early this afternoon.

Key stocks held gains of fractions to more than a point.

Some of the major steels advanced 2 or 3 points on the news while rails, the chief sufferers from the long shutdown of the mills, were up from fractions to more than a point.

The Big Three automotive stocks, chemicals, oils, coppers, aircrafts, electronics and electrical equipments made progress.

New York Central, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central were up a point or bettter.

Texas Instruments, up about 3, was outstanding among the electronics.

American Motors was off a fraction. Chrysler gained about a point while General Motors and Ford added fractions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up $1.20 at $222.80 with the industrials up $1.90, the rails up $1.60 and the utilities down 10 cents.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed.

Head Stripped to Bone

Girl Is Mutilated By Potato Combine

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Ears, eyelids, eyebrows and scalp stripped away, a 12-year-old farm girl depends for her future on a fight by doctors to restore, as they see it, the handiwork of God.

Christine Hayes of Blackfoot, Idaho, was mutilated when a potato combine seized her swinging pony tail during harvest work Monday.

6½ Hour Operation

A Blackfoot doctor kept her alive and, after telephoned instructions from Latter-Day Saints Hospital here, preserved the ripped-off skin in a gallon of salt solution.

Christine and her scalp were flown to the hospital. In a 6½-hour operation, the ears, upper and lower right eyelids and eyebrows were removed from the scalp and attached to her abdomen.

Doctors hope the rich abdominal blood will nourish them until they can be grafted back in place.

In addition, skin from the abdomen was grafted to her face and neck during the long operation.

The combine stripped Christine's head to the bone. Before the scalp can be restored, hospital officials said, the plastic surgeon will have to peel away a thin section of skull so that the skin will have a surface to which it can adhere.

The names of neither the Blackfoot doctor nor the Salt Lake surgeon were disclosed.

Hospital administrator Clarence E. Wonnacott, releasing details of the operation, said: "The surgeon took a gamble that it might possibly work. In the total reconstruction of the girl's face, it could be a marvelous accomplishment because no one can make an ear like God."

Red Hook Bus Line Gets Okay on Fare Hike

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Twilight Bus Lines Inc. of Red Hook was given permission today to raise most of its fares by five to ten cents next Tuesday.

The company operates a 24-mile bus route between Poughkeepsie and Red Hook.

The Public Service Commission, which approved the fare change, said that three additional fare zones would be established. These new zones will result in fare decreases for some riders, the PSC said.

The company said it lost almost $900 last year under its present fare schedules, in effect since 1951. The increase is expected to produce $4,600 additional revenue.

The PSC also granted the company increases of from 10 to 50 cents per package for express shipments. This is expected to produce $300 additional in annual revenue.

Sells Himself

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Irritated because his party line always seemed to be busy, a customer walked into the telephone company office here with his phone under his arm after tearing it off the wall. Company officials weren't too upset. The man asked for a new private line, extension dial, night lamp and two color phones.

Takeout Double Brings Disaster

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

West had four-leaf clovers growing out of his ears. To start with he chose to bid his bad six card heart suit instead of his good five card spade suit. That left the spade suit open for South and he put his neck right in the noose.

West decided to double. He did not want to hear any more diamonds from his partner and hoped that the double would be left in all around. It was!

To add to the fun South managed to get set four tricks. He won East's king of hearts with the ace and led the king of diamonds. West trumped and played queen and another heart. South might have ruffed with dummy's five but choose instead to discard a club and East made his duece of trumps. He led back his lowest diamonds and West ruffed again.

Now West led the king and another club. East was in with the ace and led a third diamond which West ruffed with the ten.

A fourth heart was led and South completed his own debacle by trumping with dummy's ace. This made both the king and queen good in the West hand.

All things considered North and South paid a rather severe penalty. North's takeout double was reasonable and certainly South had his bid. Besides, South might well have saved a trick or two in the play of the hand.

Give Hubby a Gold Star for Any One of These Qualities

Any woman can thank her lucky stars if she has a husband who—

• Makes her feel attractive, no matter how old she is or what she looks like to others.

• Knows how to kid her out of her feelings of inadequacy when her best laid plans go awry.

• Remembers all the special dates so important to a woman—without having to be nudged or reminded.

• Thinks she is a marvelous cook and obviously enjoys every meal that is set before him.

• Backs her up when she is trying to get the children to obey a few regulations.

• Is nice to her relatives and friends.

• Wants her to look as attractive as possible and realizes that it costs money for a woman to keep up the kind of appearance that does her husband proud.

• Wants his friends to meet her and shows obvious pride when he says, "This is my wife."

• Builds her up to the children and never criticizes her in front of them.

• Doesn't have to be "dragged" to parties.

• Has some interests of his own and is willing for her to have some they don't share, so that the two of them don't get an overdose of "togetherness."

• Doesn't dole out money to her like big-hearted Joe but makes her his full financial partner so far as family finances are concerned.

• Thinks marriage is a fine institution and feels sorry for his bachelor friends.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A dollar can be so strong as to be embarrassing too.

Americans who fret because some Europeans are wondering out loud if the U. S. dollar isn't weakening can take heart today in the word that many Canadians complain that the Canadian dollar is too strong.

It sells at a premium of more than five cents over the American dollar. And that, say our northern neighbors, is bad for business —their business.

Other Words of Comfort

And those Americans who have been alarmed lest the United States was pricing itself out of the world market may be comforted somewhat to hear that some Canadians complain that goods can be bought cheaper here than there and that, too, is bad for business —their business.

The American dollar situation arises because the total of what we pay foreigners for their products plus what we extend in the form of foreign aid and what we spend abroad on upkeep of military bases and the like—that total exceeds the amount we get for what we sell to other countries.

Hence, other lands have built up their reserves of gold—by buying it from us—and their dollar reserves by putting them in high interest bearing U. S. securities. This makes their currencies look much better than they did a few years back.

Hasn't Hurt Yet

It hasn't really weakened the American dollar yet—despite the big outflow of our gold—but it hasn't strengthened it either, by a long shot.

The Canadian situation is a bit different. They still buy more from us than they sell us. This normally would make our dollar stronger than theirs. But in recent years, American dollars have been flowing into Canada in the form of investments, making the overall balance all in favor of the Canadian dollar, and thus putting it at a premium over the American one.

Still another reason for the Canadian dollar's premium status is advanced by speakers at the convention of the Canadian Exporters Assn.

They say the borrowing by Canadian provinces and municipalities in the United States is partly to blame.

Blame Sounds Familiar

Putting the blame, at least in part, on the borrowings by provinces and municipalities, strikes a familiar note this side of the border.

The need of American states and communities to meet their own growing pains has sent them into the money market here for funds in record volume. This has been a prime factor in swelling the demand for loans and in sending interest rates to 30-year highs. It also has increased the tax burden.

Name Changed

NEW YORK (AP) — To end confusion Paddy Chayefsky has changed the name of his new drama from "The Dybbuk from Woodhaven" to "The Tenth Man." The show arrives on Broadway next fall. A spokesman for the production explained that "dybbuk," a Hebrew word for wandering spirit, mystified some people, and that others didn't know where Woodhaven is (it's part of the Borough of Queens in the City of New York).

27 Ulster Scouts Attend Camp for Weekend Period

Members of Boy Scout Troop 10, sponsored by Ulster Hose Fire Company 5, Town of Ulster, held their first overnight camp of the fall season at their troop site off Route 28 near Galis Hill, last weekend.

Twenty-seven boys participating, comprising six patrols, the Flaming Arrow, Broken Arrow, Fox, Hawk and Jim Bowie, were transported to the trail leading to the camp site by their parents.

Saturday's lunch and dinner and Sunday's breakfast were prepared and cooked by the patrols from their individual menus, which were arranged by each group at the troop meeting prior to the weekend event.

During the program various scoutcraft requirements of the tenderfoot, second and first class ranks were passed. Senior Patrol Leader Michael Benincasa completed his requirements for the cooking merit badge.

An obstacle course was constructed in accordance with the troop's physical fitness program. Each boy kept an individual record of the time taken to complete the obstacles. The course consisted of a swinging rope, a rope climb, an inclined log walk, and a horizontal bar climb.

During the past month the patrols were responsible for preparing various topics on archery, which were presented at the troop meeting. An archery course was erected at the camp site. Some scouts brought their own equipment, others used the troop bow and arrows.

The day's activities were concluded with a troop-wide camp fire. All participants arrived home in time to attend services in their respective churches Sunday morning.

Scoutmaster Carlton Deyo and Committeeman Francis Short supervised the weekend encampment.

Those attending were Michael Benincasa, Santo Benincasa, Martin Petersen, James Petersen, Harry Hill, Ralph McCumber, George Dall, Kenneth Knapp, John Russell, Patrick Hobert, Richard Rausch, Bryant Burroughs, Gary De Sart, John Sullivan, Charles Bielinski, Neil Dousharm, Dean Short, John O'Brien, Daniel Corrigan, Lee Roy Staccio, Ronald Augustine, Vincent Stoll, Louis Carpino, Paul Koeppen, Victor de Illy Peter Clausi and Peter Williams.

Naomi Circle Discusses Fall Plans at Meeting

Members of the Naomi Circle of the Guild for Christian Service of the Rosendale Reformed Church, meeting at the home of Mrs. Harrison Cornish, co-hostess with Mrs. Henry Meigel, proposed a party as a future fund-raising activity of the Guild. The suggestion will be brought up at the Guild meeting.

Mrs. George Winters told of having seen a notice in The Freeman regarding the need for groups to make favors to be placed on the trays of patients at Kingston Hospital during two holidays. She will report on this further at the Guild meeting.

Circle Chairman, Mrs. Ferdinand Fiedler, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Al Snyder conducted the spiritual portion on the Fifth Beautitude in the absence of Mrs. Wilfred Doolittle, spiritual secretary.

Mrs. Herbert Kimker, service secretary, reported that she had visited Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson when they were in the sanitarium and after their return home.

Education Secretary, Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, made a survey of the religions which the group named prior to conducting the study of World Religions, the education topic for the forthcoming months. Following this, she gave a report on the Jewish religion.

Organization Secretary, Mrs. August Backert, suggested some fund raising activities.

Mrs. Fiedler reminded the group that the congregational meeting and supper would be held Sunday, Oct. 25.

Oct. 21 at 10 a. m. is the fall Classis meeting at the New Paltz Reformed Church.

The next circle meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. James Conley.

Members were reminded to bring items for the missionary basket to the Guild meeting.

Members present were the Mmes. Backert, Conley, Cornish, Fiedler, Kimker, Meigel, Winters and Van Winkle.

State Keeping Eye On Democrats in Student Club Plan

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Democrats plan to organize political clubs in high schools across the state. The State Education Department is keeping an eye on the move.

The Affiliated Young Democrats announced Wednesday the opening of an organizing drive.

The clubs will give youths an opportunity to learn government and politics, said Harold R. Moskovit of New York City, president of the Young Democrats.

The State Education Department, asked for comment on the plan, said no meetings could be held on school property without official assent.

In cities, the assent could be given by boards of education, the department explained. In school districts, use of school property for political meetings must be authorized in an election.

A department spokesman said that it had no control over extra-curricular activities off school property.

Crisis Looms Next Summer

Food Economy Is Now Social Fashion in Communist China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News analyst

Natural calamities and other factors have combined to create a critical food situation in Red China. The Peiping government is instituting measures which have the look of rigid food rationing.

This information is gleaned from the official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, the People's Daily. It has just announced details of what the party calls a "plan for food consumption and economizing in food consumption.

Acknowledges Campaign

While the party paper insists the food outlook in China is favorable, it acknowledges that it has undertaken a "shock publicity campaign" to cut down excessive consumption. Party members have undertaken to "explain the truth to the masses."

"They have raised the consciousness of the masses and extensively disseminated throughout all households the call of the party for the practice of economy in food consumption," the paper says. "Many refectories (public dining halls) and families have taken the initiative to draft their plans to economize in food consumption.

"Economy in food has thus become the social fashion. In preparing meals they have blended course and fine food grains, adjusted the cooking of food grains for both thin and thick mixtures, distinguished between greater and lesser consumption of meals, and rationed consumption according to the number of persons."

The party has directed that after the autumn harvest, these measures must be adopted in all areas.

Blames Disasters

The party blames its food woes in part on the number of natural disasters — floods and droughts — which ravaged many areas in Red China during the summer. But there are other factors.

One of the most important of these must be the shift of populations from rural areas to the cities in the intensive drive of the Red Chinese to industrialize at breakneck speed.

It is also more than possible that the commune system forced upon the farm communities has further interfered with farm production. There has been much reason to suppose that the regimentation of the Chinese farmers has met with serious resistance.

So the Communist party is faced with this situation: The autumn harvest probably will mean a barely adequate supply of food for the fall and winter months, but there is little reserve to fall back upon next spring and summer, when the food situation can become so troublesome as to deserve the term crisis.

All Over String Bean

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—A suit over a fallen string bean resumed before a 12-member jury in Supreme Court here today.

Mrs. Albert F. Hollenbeck of nearby Horseheads is suing a supermarket chain for an undisclosed amount in a court action that opened here Wednesday. She claims she slipped on a string bean in the chain's town market two years ago and injured her side.

Fischang Feted On 30th Year By C-H Concern

Henry A. Fischang of 58 Boulevard, commercial representative of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, was honored Wednesday on the occasion of his 30th anniversary of service with the local utility.

Fischang was cited for his long career and received a service emblem from company president Ernest R. Acker at ceremonies at Central Hudson's General officfie in Poughkeepsie.

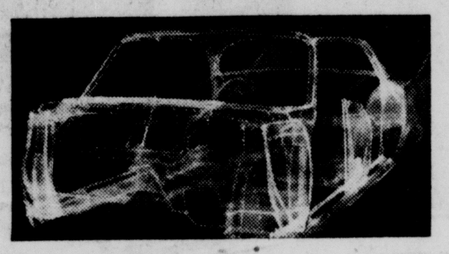
The utility veteran began his long career on Aug. 12, 1929 and has been serving in the Saugerties and Kingston areas. He is a member of the Central Hudson Employes Quarter Century Club.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW PLYMOUTH!

SOLID FOR '60! AT YOUR DEALER'S TOMORROW!

BUILT A NEW SOLID WAY TO GIVE YOU SOLID SATISFACTION

CHRYSLER ENGINEERING INTRODUCES A NEW KIND OF PLYMOUTH THAT MARKS A MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH IN CAR DESIGN. BODY AND FRAME UNIT ARE WELDED TOGETHER AS ONE, IN A NEW WAY. MANY PARTS THAT WORK LOOSE, RATTLE AND NEED FIXING IN ORDINARY CARS ARE ELIMINATED. THIS LOW-PRICE '60 PLYMOUTH IS STRONGER AND ROOMIER. IT USES LESS GAS THAN BEFORE. IT RIDES MORE COMFORTABLY, WE BELIEVE, THAN ANY OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS.



PLYMOUTH'S NEW DURA-QUIET UNIBODY is a rigidly-formed structure, locked by approximately 5400 precise welds. It has no conventional body bolts, braces, struts or stays to give trouble. Road noises and road shocks are dampened. Even the sound of the wind is hushed.

We doubt if any car at any price has ever ridden or handled as well as this low-price automobile. Practical Stabilizer Design, incorporating rear stabilizer fins, adds stability on the road, cuts wind resistance, gives better gas mileage.

The new Solid Plymouth is a young, exciting car with ten full years of Chrysler Corporation development behind it. It will suit you particularly if you want a feeling of quality and a sense of craftsmanship. It is built carefully and precisely. We believe there is no other car in the low-price field that resembles it.

AN ALL-NEW INCLINED OVERHEAD VALVE "6" IS AMONG FIVE PLYMOUTH ENGINE OPTIONS FOR 1960. The first inclined engine ever in an American passenger car is the new Plymouth 30-D Economy Six, most powerful "6" in America. Very economical, it is inclined to make servicing simpler, to lower the car's center of gravity and to make handling and riding easier. Also available to you for 1960: the limited-production *SonoRamic Commando V-8.

SOLID PLYMOUTH 1960 OFFERS FEATURES NO OTHER CAR IN ITS CLASS CAN OFFER. Custom-Positioned Front Seat. Safe-T-Matic doorlocking system. RCA "45" Record Player. And many more.

1958 State Queen Is in TB Hospital

ONEONTA, N. Y. (AP)—Hazel-eyed Miriam Sanderson, Miss New York State last year, is in a tuberculosis hospital here.

The 21-year-old beauty queen who competed in the Miss America contest last year entered the Homer Folks State Hospital 11 days ago.

Miss Sanderson graduated from the Albany State College of Education last June and was teaching speech therapy in public schools at Storrs, Conn.

Her father, Winston G. Sanderson, said Wednesday her physicians would decide Friday how long she must stay in the hospital.

"Sometimes her spirits are a bit low," Sanderson said.

The Sandersons live in Rensselaer, near Albany.

BEAUTIFUL, CHOKING HYACINTHS — These boats are tied up at the Marjorie Park Yacht Basin in Tampa, Fla., and that's where they're going to stay for awhile. The basin is clogged with floating hyacinths pushed in by easterly winds. The plants have jammed the waterways so tightly that only a few large boats are able to bull their way through.

Says Milk Order Ban Costly to Dairymen

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—New York dairymen are losing at least four million dollars a year because of a restriction in the federal milk-market order, says Daniel J. Carey, former state agriculture commissioner.

Carey, now manager of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives, said Wednesday the provision in the order that prohibits shipment of New York milk into New England should be eliminated.

The order is "an intricate maze of interlocking restrictions, which result in losses to New York dairymen of at least four million dollars annually," Carey said at a news conference.

Carey stopped in Plattsburgh while on his way to a meeting of dairy farmers in nearby Mooers.

To Open Branch

BATAVIA, N. Y. (AP) — The Tibon Hard Chrome Co. of Fairfield, Conn., will open a branch plant here to serve Western New York markets.

The State Commerce Department said today Tibon would begin its Batavia operation with 20 employes in a factory formerly owned by Massey-Ferguson Ltd., which made farm equipment.

Allen Avers

Kremlin Line Is Altered Due to Visit of Khrush

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. propaganda chief George V. Allen said today the Communists have changed their line of attack against capitalism because of what Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev discovered on his trip to the United States.

Allen, head of the U. S. Information Agency, said the Communists now admit capitalistic production is abundant—but wasteful.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Public Relations Society of America, Allen said: "I don't know whether Mr. Khrushchev liked what he saw in the United States or not. But in the future, it won't be quite as easy for him to believe some of the nonsense about America projected to the world by his own propaganda mechanism.

"Soviet propaganda has held that under American capitalism, the poor were constantly getting poorer. Since the Khrushchev visit this line already has changed.

"Now, Moscow admits that capitalism produces an abundance for the masses. The trouble with capitalism, we are now told, is that it is wasteful—that socialist planning will also bring abundance but with less waste of effort and of natural resources!

"What Khrushchev and his companions saw for themselves in America seems to have already exploded some of their preconceived notions about this country."

Hotel Manager, 71, Dies of Heart Attack

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Myron Woolley, manager of the Gideon Putnam Hotel and cousin of actor Monty Wooley, died Wednesday night of a heart attack. He was 71.

Woolley spent most of his life in the hotel business. He had been manager of the state - owned Gideon Putnam on the Spa Reservation since 1944.

Prior to that, he was a hotel manager in Mont Tremblant, a Laurentian Mountain resort north of Montreal.

He was a bachelor and a native of Red Bank, N. J.

Better Understanding

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish directors of religious affairs at Temple University are visiting Israel to meet leaders of the three faiths in the Middle East with a view toward furthering better understanding. The three are the Rev. John J. McHale, director of Temple's Newman Club, the Rev. Robert L. James Jr., director of Protestant religious activities on the campus; and Rabbi Shalom Segal, head of the university's B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation.

Expect Rent Agreement With Indians Soon

OTTAWA (AP) — Agreement is expected next week on rental to be paid by the Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway Authority to the St. Regis Indians for use of a road through the Indian reserve to the Cornwall - Massena International Bridge.

A meeting between the parties, scheduled for Wednesday night, was postponed until next week.

The Indians have threatened to close the 1½-mile road unless the authority pays a rental of $45,000 over a 4½-year period retroactive to August of last year.

The road connects the north and south spans of the bridge.

Invitations Pouring In

Attitude of Rocky On Speech Bid May Decide '60 Course

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — One good popularity barometer — the number of invitations to speak—offers Gov. Rockefeller serious encouragement to announce his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

A flood of invitations to a wide variety of events, now totaling about 3,500 from 31 states and 3 foreign countries, has descended on Rockefeller. Most of them ask him to speak. So far, he has rejected nearly all of the out-of-state requests.

Bids May Increase

As the governor continues to ponder a course of political action, there are indications that speaking invitations will increase. They now are being received at the rate of approximately 400 a month. The tempo has increased during his nine months as governor.

Initially, Rockefeller ruled against acceptance of out-of-state bids. He explained he was busy being governor and had no time for outside activity.

Abandons Rigid Position

As the presidential pressure has mounted, he has abandoned this rigid position. The change was demonstrated by his recent conferences with New Hampshire Republicans who want him to run, and by his acceptance of an invitation to address the Inland Press Assn. next Tuesday in Chicago and meet with young Republicans there.

Political observers believe his attitude in the next few months may be a straw-in-the-wind indicative of his decision about the presidency. He presumably must announce early in 1960, if he intends to contest with Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP designation.

If he does, he undoubtedly will schedule appearances throughout the country to rally support.

Studied for 60 Signs

Most of the invitations from out of state so far have been from non-political organizations. Several schools and professional groups have invited him to appear.

While it is not from such invitations that Rockefeller would map any campaign to win the GOP nomination for president, Rockefeller forces are studying them for signs of what 1960 will bring.

There might have been an easier way to find out. One of the invitations the governor turned down for this month was from an astrologers' association.

Syracuse Plans Start On New Field House

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse University hopes to begin construction of a $1,750,000 athletic field house next August.

The university said Wednesday 1½ million dollars had been pledged. It needs $640,000 cash to begin construction, the university said.

The proposed structure will be circular in the center section and have a roof shaped like a mushroom. It would be 300 feet in diameter and 65 feet high at the peak. It has been planned for more than 10 years.

Broadway Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Attendance at Broadway theaters during the 1958-59 season increased by nearly a million spectators over the previous year, according to Playbill. The total for the year was 11,702,170, compared to 10,838,930 during 1957-58.

MAN ON THE MOON— (1) The Rocket

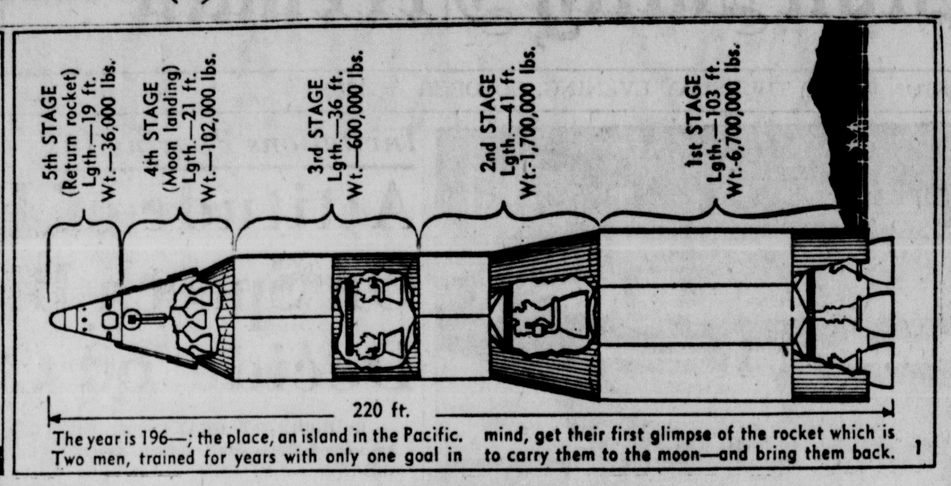
— PROJECT NOVA —

Experts predict that human beings will land on the moon within the next 10 years. A rocket for this mission has already been named by National Aeronautics and Space Administration—NOVA—a giant 200 times more powerful than Vanguard. Preliminary work on it is already underway. The following story is based on an article by Milton W. Rosen and F. C. Schwenk, which appeared in American Rocket Society's publication, "Astronautics."



The year is 196—; the place, an island in the Pacific. Two men, trained for years with only one goal in mind, get their first glimpse of the rocket which is to carry them to the moon—and bring them back. 1

MAN ON THE MOON— (2) Between Two Worlds

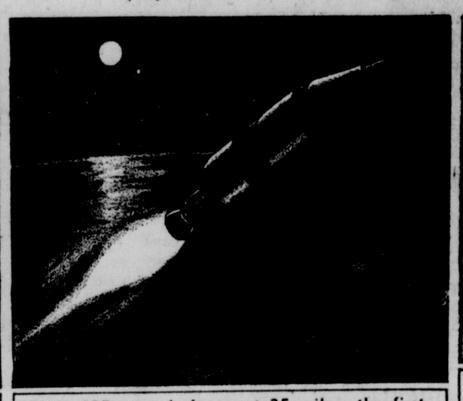
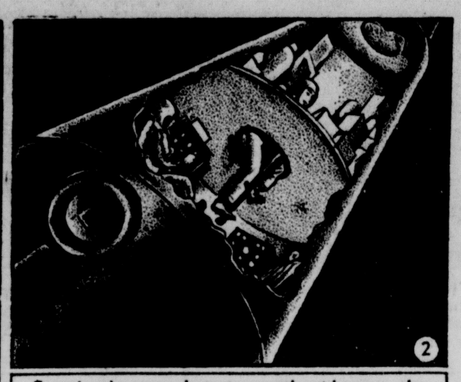
As the six 1.5-million-pound-thrust motors of its first stage ignite, Nova rises ponderously toward the heavens.



Some 135 seconds later, at 35 miles, the first stage drops off and the second fires. Three minutes later, the third.



Coasting in space between earth and moon, the passengers settle down for the 60-hour flight. Lower level of capsule holds couches and controls; upper level food and other gear. 2

Testimony Given White Suffered Damage to Brain

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Malcolm R. White, on trial for first-degree murder, suffered brain damage that affected his sight, thinking, memory and calculation, a defense witness says.

White is on trial for the Nov. 13 slaying of ex-convict Alfred R. Dugan, who was seeking to organize an independent union at White's Chester Cable Co. White has pleaded self-defense.

Taking the stand Wednesday was Dr. Lawrence Sweeney, a neurologist and neuropsychiatrist of Poughkeepsie.

Sweeney testified that he examined White in late May and said White suffered migraine headaches since the age of 8 or 9 years; an advanced type of migraine "not distinguishable from epileptic equivalents," developed beginning in 1942.

In 1945, White also suffered a stroke caused by a block or clot in an artery on the left side of the brain that nourishes the visual, memory and calculating areas of the brain. The stroke left visual defects, principally a loss of side vision on the right, Sweeney said.

Find Car in Gorge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—An empty and battered 1959 station wagon lay snagged on a tree today—just 30 feet from the bottom of the 200-foot lower Niagara River gorge.

Police found the car there Wednesday and said a car thief probably pushed it off the ledge at Devil's Hole State Park. The car was stolen from a Buffalo suburb Sept. 24.

12 Nations Open Antarctic Parley Today in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of 12 nations open an antarctic conference today to negotiate a treaty which would bar military armaments and installations from the vast frozen continent around the South Pole.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was scheduled to welcome the conference delegates.

President Eisenhower initiated the antarctic treaty project last year with a proposal that all countries directly interested in the south polar region should negotiate in accord to minimize international friction there, assure cooperation, scientific research and exploration, and dedicate the region to peaceful purposes.

The 12 nations now meeting here include the Soviet Union along with the United States, Britain and France.

American officials are optimistic about the prospects for the meeting's success. The chief reason is that Antarctica is so remote that it does not involve immediate security interests.

In addition to the Big Four, the countries participating are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, Japan, New Zealand, Norway and South Africa.

Vehicle Bureau Lists Suspension And Revocations

The Motor Vehicle today released a list of driver license and motor vehicle registration revocations and suspensions for major causes during the last half of September.

Woman on Staff At Columbia Is Teacher Speaker

Frances Partridge Connor, associate professor of education in the Department of Special Education at Teachers College, Columbia University, will be the luncheon speaker at the Tenth Anniversary Fall Conference of the Special Education Teachers' Association of Southeastern New York here Saturday. She will speak at the Founders' luncheon at George Washington School cafeteria at 12:15 p. m.

Besides being a member of the instructional staff at Columbia, Dr. Connor serves as research associate in the U. S. Office of Education on "Qualifications and Preparation of Teachers of Exceptional Children." A member of many professional associations, she received her BA degree from St. Joseph's College, Brooklyn, and MA and EdD degrees at Teachers College, Columbia University.

DR. FRANCES P. CONNOR

Coming From 10 Counties

The luncheon is a part of the day-long conference sponsored by the Special Education Teachers' Association of Southeastern New York and Ulster County Chapter, Association for the Help of Retarded Children. It will be attended by teachers, educators, professional persons and parents of mentally retarded children from 10 countries.

The conference will begin at 9 a. m. at the George Washington School. Following a general session, there will be six group sessions, as follows:

Trainable age level — Mrs. Bessie Payne, chairman, Poughkeepsie.

Primary age level — Virgil Marco, chairman, Red Hook.

Intermediate age level — Mrs. Norma Kidd, and Mrs. Hilda Sherlock, co-chairmen, Kingston.

Guardianship workshop—Julian Banner, chairman, New York City.

To Tour Area

After lunch, registrants will have their choice of various tours of nearby places of historic interest, followed by a tea at 4 p. m. at the Old Dutch Church.

The conference will conclude with a dinner meeting, open to the public upon reservation, at the Wiltwyck Country Club, 7 p. m. Speakers will be Senator Earl W. Brydges, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Retardation; Dr. George A. Jervis, director of research at Letchworth Village, and Charles D. Becker, director, Division of Mentally Handicapped, State Education Department. After the dinner, there will be dancing to the music of Johnny Michael's Band.

Deputy State Tax Commissioner to Retire Dec. 22nd

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Mortimer M. Kassell, the deputy state tax commissioner, whose state expense accounts included $7 a night to his wife for lodging, will retire from state service Dec. 22.

It was disclosed last April that Kassell had been collecting travel-expense funds from the state for staying at his wife's New York City apartment.

He was reimbursed under an exception granted him from a ban on expense payments for lodging with a relative. State Comptroller Arthur Levitt tightened the ban in May and ended the exceptions.

Kassell made no mention of the incident in announcing his retirement.

He said he had decided some time ago that he would retire as soon as he was eligible because his work in Albany separated him from his family in New York City.

On Dec. 18, he will reach 55, the optional retirement age in state service.

Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy, in accepting Kassell's letter of retirement, told the deputy commissioner "few men at any level of state service have met the demands of public office with more professional competence and personal devotion."

Kassell joined the Tax Department in 1933. He received $17,786 a year as deputy and counsel.

No successor was named immediately.

Miss Hansberry Signed

NEW YORK (AP) — Dore Schary has commissioned Lorraine Hansberry to write an original script for the first of a series of 90-minute spectaculars to be aired in 1961 by the NBC television network. Miss Hansberry is author of the Broadway hit "A Raisin in the Sun" which won the Drama Critics citation as the season's best play. Schary is staging five Civil War video programs between his activities as a Broadway writer, director and producer.

Will Ask Probe To Get at Roots Of Youth Crimes

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Goodman A. Sarachan of the State Investigation Commission says he will seek a commission probe to "get at the roots of juvenile delinquency."

Sarachan, a Rochester attorney, will succeed John W. Ryan of Buffalo as commission chairman Nov. 1 under the group's rotation system.

"I would like to see the mission get into that type vestigation," Sarachan to Jewish club here. "I feel it serves an investigation."

AMERICAN MENU

Austere Pilgrim Menu Was Model for a Modern Feast

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A dinner served in Plymouth, Mass., way back in 1623 inspired the far more elaborate feast given by the American Spice Trade Association at New York's Hotel Astor on Oct. 14.

That Plymouth dinner consisted of "a lobster and a piece of fish without bread or anything else but a cup of spring water." However, diet along the New England rock-bound coast improved when ships returned from the "rich East" with exotic spices which included curry.

The spice dinner included lobster and curry, of course, and many other New England dishes —but all brought up to modern gourmet standards. Here's the menu, a far cry from that frugal dinner in 1623:

Menu:

Reception: Caraway Seed Snaps, Curried Oyster Fritters, Hot Quahog (Clam) Canapes, Shad Roe Pate, Anchovy Abbadabbas.

Dinner: Broiled Scallops, New Bedford; Clam Bisque, Paprika Pilot Crackers, Steamed Lobster, Curry Butter, Nutmeg Succotash, Hot Cinnamon Rolls, Corn Bread Sticks, Green Salad, Herbed French Dressing, Coddled Pears in Spiced Rum Sauce with Lemon Ice, Sesame Seed Crescents, Ginger Butter Thins, Coffee, Cream, Sugar.

Steamed Lobster With Curry Butter

For each serving, allow 1 lobster weighing from 1 to 2 pounds. Place live lobster on a rack in a large kettle and pour in 1 inch boiling water. Cover and steam from 15 to 20 minutes or until lobster turns pink (count cooking time after steam has formed). Remove lobster from the kettle onto a cutting board on its back. Split lengthwise with a heavy sharp knife, running it from the mouth through the body and tail. Remove the dark sand vein. Frequently, undeveloped spawn which is red in color is found and may be removed or eaten as desired. Crack the large claws. Serve in the shells with melted curry butter.

Note: If live lobsters are not available in your locality, use the frozen lobster tails. Prepare them for steaming as directed on the package and steam as for live lobster in above directions. Serve with curry-butter.

Curry Butter: For each serving, melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and blend in ¼ teaspoon curry powder. Serve in butter warmers, small paper cups or china or glass cups, one to each person, into which dunk chunks of steamed lobster.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Clam bisque, crackers, steamed lobster with curry butter, parsley potato balls, succotash, French bread, mixed green salad, French dressing, spiced pears, cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

High School Observatory

MONROE, Wis. (AP)—Monroe High School has access to an observatory for classroom work. Nathan Roth, a carpenter and amateur astronomer, built a classroom size observatory and installed a 12-inch Newtonian reflector telescope which he made himself. He invited the school to use the observatory whenever it wants to.

VFW Ladies Will Discuss Projects At Albany Parley

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the Department of New York will hold their first conference at the Sheraton-Ten Eyck Hotel, Albany, Sunday from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The purpose of the conference is to promote the programs which are sponsored by the Auxiliaries through the state and to better acquaint the membership of the importance of these programs. All members of the Auxiliary are invited to attend.

Mrs. Mary C. Cottone of Olean, Department president, will formally open the meeting. Mrs. Ethel M. Bollinger of West Taghkanic, chairman of the conference, will preside.

Dr. A. D. Hengerer of the American Cancer Society of Albany will address the assembly. Other guests will be Raymond MacDonald, commander of the Department of New York; Mrs. Louise Grimm, National Council member of Uniontown, Pa.; Mrs. Wyman Chadwick, member of the national advisory committee and a past national president of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Ada E. Harrison, past national president of Richmond Hill; Mrs. Henriette Schwager, national rehabilitation director of New York City, and Mrs. Helen Murphy, national director of Area One of Albany.

Mrs. Sidney Lane, president, Hudson Valley Counties Council Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, urges as many as possible from this area to attend this important conference so that the important work of the auxiliary may be carried out to the advantage of all veterans and the community.

Modena

Church Notes

MODENA—The second training class for visitors in the United Evangelistic Mission will be held Thursday 8 p. m. at the Modena Methodist Church.

"Creative Encounter" will be the subject of the sermons to be delivered Sunday at worship services in the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches.

At 2:30 p. m. members of the parish will visit the County Infirmary at New Paltz, and conduct a worship service there.

The evening service at the Modena Methodist Church will include a report of the United Evangelistic Mission session, of the Troy Conference, at the First Methodist Church, Albany Oct. 10-14.

Members of the Hall Committee will collect articles for the foods, gift and rummage sales to be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 21, upstairs in the Community Hall.

This sale will be held in connection with the turkey supper which members of the official board of the Modena Methodist Church are sponsoring that evening in the dining room of the hall. Servings will be at 5:30 and 7 p. m.

Convicted Murderer Gets Stay of Execution

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Pete Pollock, who was scheduled to die tonight in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison, has been granted a stay by Gov. Rockefeller.

Pollock, 30, convicted of murdering a woman during a holdup in The Bronx last year, was given the stay Wednesday so that his lawyers could appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Rockefeller stayed the execution until the week of Oct. 26.

Pollock was convicted of killing Theresa Pellegrini, March 11, 1958, during a liquor store holdup that netted him $52.

You should know these facts about NATURAL GAS HEAT!

Here's what makes Gas Heat your best buy.

1. Economy. It's the cheapest way to heat, all costs considered. No extras, no hidden costs like service contracts, tank insurance, burner motor operation.
2. Cleanliness. Only Gas burns completely, without smoke, soot or smudge.
3. Dependability. Gas is always there when you need it. Gas travels in underground pipes safe from any kind of weather.
4. Efficiency. Gas units are up to 35% more efficient and stay efficient longer.
5. Quiet, Trouble-Free Operation. No complicated moving parts to wear out.
6. Completely Automatic. A simple thermostat does all the work.
7. Longest Life. Many 30-year-old installations are still working perfectly.
8. No Storage Problems. No tanks or bins to take up space.

Throughout the entire country, more homes are heated with gas than with any other fuel. In Central Hudson's territory, wherever Natural Gas is available, new homeowners choose it by more than nine to one over all other types of heating equipment. There are reasons! Two Fined, Lose Licenses for Time On Traffic Counts

Two youths, who police say sped through Manor Avenue and other streets with their auto lights out in an effort to elude apprehension by Patrolman Wilmont Hall on Oct. 11, today were fined by City Judge Aaron E. Klein after they pleaded guilty.

Police identified the pair as Jay Stanley Kloss, 17, of 7 Canal Street, Port Ewen, and John Joseph LaRocca, 18, Box 215-A, East Kingston.

Hall charged Kloss with driving 45 miles an hour in Manor Avenue and driving a car without a license. LaRocca was accused of speeding 45 miles an hour in Manor Avenue. Hall said the youths turned off the lights on their cars in an attempt to elude the policeman, who pursued the cars through several streets until he overtook them at Albany and Roosevelt Avenues.

Kloss was fined $25 for driving without a license and $50 for speeding. Judge Klein also suspended the youth's junior operator's license for 30 days. LaRocca pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $50. His driver's license was suspended for 30 days in addition to the fines.

Democrats to Hold Parade Oct. 27, Listen to Senator

A parade and a rally to be held Tuesday night, Oct. 27, are being planned by the Kingston Men's Democratic Club and the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, during which State Senator Thomas J. Mackell of the first and second assembly district, Queens County, will address the gathering.

Participants will meet at 7:30 p. m., at Democratic headquarters at Broadway and Cedar Street. From there they will proceed in cars to East Strand where Senator Mackell will deliver an address.

Senator Mackell recently opposed James Roe in the primaries

SEN. T. J. MACKELL

for the nomination of Queens Borough president.

He was graduated from the College of the City of New York and received his law degree at St. John's Law School. He served as president of the Power Division Council of the Civil Service Forum and was a detective with the New York City Police department for 10 years.

Senator Mackell has been active in the Queens Borough Lodge of Elks, Woodside Lions Club, Colon Council Knights of Columbus. He is an executive member of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, a member of Queens County Bar Association, the New York County Lawyers' Association, the Long Island City Lawyers' Association, Queens County Criminal Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association.

He was elected in the general election in 1954 to the Senate and has served on the Civil Service and Pensions committee, excise committee, commerce and navigation committee, public health committee and the affairs of the City of New York committee.

Christianity Is Called Bulwark Of Civilization

S. Bowen Hawkins of Albany, executive director of the New York Temperance Civic League, addressed the Men's Club of the Old Dutch Church Wednesday evening on the subject, "Regular or King-size."

He catalogued a number of examples of important persons and actions in American and world history which he characterized as "king-sized" and other individuals and events which he described as less constructive, designating these as "regular."

Washington and Lincoln, for example, he listed as king-size, whereas Hitler, Mussolini and Khrushchev he placed in the other category.

He said he has high hopes for the United States, despite dire predictions by Arnold Toynbee that Western Civilization is in decline. He pointed out that our constitution has its roots in Christianity.

Man doesn't have to climb up over the shoulders of other people to reach success in the king-sized sense, he said, pointing out that king-sized people are those who share with their followmen. The speaker was introduced by Clair S. Sheaffer, chairman of the program committee. President William D. Markle presided.

Remains Silent Before Sentence Over Bad Checks

A 23-year-old Marlboro x-ray technician invoked the Fifth Amendment Tuesday, when he appeared before Dutchess County Judge John R. Schwartz for sentencing. He had pleaded guilty to cashing four worthless checks.

The defendant, George J. Puetz Jr., was sentenced to Elmira Reformatory for a maximum sentence of five years, and no minimum.

Before sentence was passed, Court Clerk Louis Albert asked the defendant if he had any reason why sentence should not be imposed.

"I remain silent under the Fifth Amendment," replied Puetz. After he was sentenced the defendant remarked, "There's no justice." He was taken back to the Dutchess County jail pending the trip to Elmira.

Puetz, a native of Newburgh, was accused of issuing checks for $85, $75 and $10 at the First National Bank of Poughkeepsie, and one at the First National Bank of Wappingers Falls for $78, according to authorities.

Chavez, Bromberg, Ruff Are Foundation Award Winners

Two artists and a television writer-author have been named winners of the Woodstock Foundation Awards for 1959, it was announced today.

Named after almost three hours of debate by the Foundation's trustees were: Edward Chavez and Manuel Bromberg, Woodstock artists and Hollie Bye Ruff, in the field of literature.

Of the 22 applicants, the majority were artists and its was the opinion of the trustees that competition has never been greater, nor have been so many fine artists competing at one time, said KiKi Godwin, Foundation president. Talent of the highest calibre was evident in all the work submitted by past and present applicants and winners.

The Foundation exhibition itself receive rave acclaim from all who viewed the collective show, which was the first ever given by the Foundation. The work was varied and contained pure and semi-abstract, subjective, impressionistic and realistic work.

Express Regret

The Board of Trustees sorely regretted that no more than three awards could be given, because many more entries showed great talent and were also deserving. This combination of events provided a difficult task for the judging committee.

The Foundation president expressed the hope that in the future area residents will take added pride in the wonderful work by local people in the world of arts. Greater support is needed by the Woodstock Foundation, which annually works so diligently to reward and encourage Woodstockers to keep the community prominent as a cultural center.

In the near future, more will be told of the winners, as the Foundation progresses with plans to have one-man shows in New York for the artists and readings of Hollie Bye's works by possible future producers.

Cramer Praises Memorial Show Now at Gallery

The present Memorial Exhibition of paintings by Frank London, Neil Ives, Bruno Zimm, Charles Rosen and Frank Chase is undoubtedly a high point of the 1959 art season in Woodstock, says Konrad Cramer.

The prominent Woodstock artist in reviewing the show goes on to say:

"The opening of the show saw many old Woodstockers enjoying a look backward at Woodstock art of the thirties and forties, and most people liked what they saw.

"In those days, art was more a personal matter, you could go to an exhibition and long before you could read the artist's signature you were able to tell whose picture it was—for the personal expression was the signature of the artist.

"I was amazed how well the work of these artists had stood the test of time—these paintings seemed to have grown in charm with the years. I sometimes wonder whether the 'non objective' pictures of today will fare as well in the years to come.

"Each artist in this show is a personality who has something to say that is all his own.

"All together, the show looks impressive and dignified and you will be well rewarded by spending a little time with these good men. They lived and were happy in Woodstock."

Marian Anderson Film Showing at Onteora

The widely acclaimed film of Marian Anderson's triumphant tour of Southeast Asia, "The Lady From Philadelphia," will be presented as the Onteora P-TA's United Nations tribute on Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the Boiceville building.

In this exceptional film, Marian Anderson reveals not only her rare gift as one of the world's greatest singers, but also her equally inspiring ability to communicate through the spoken word. Miss Anderson, as our country's representative, through her gentle and beautiful philosophy, illustrated to the many Asian countries our mutal concerns and desire for friendship.

More than 5,000,000 people had the pleasure of listening to the woman of whom Toscanani once said: "A voice like yours is heard once in a hundred years."

The public is cordially invited to see and hear this truly inspiring film to be given at the Boiceville school on Oct. 20, at 8 p. m.

Change in Services At Episcopal Church

Pending the arrival of the permanent vicar, only one service will be held at St. Gregory's Episcopal Church at 11 a. m. on Sunday, it has been announced.

The Rev. Frederick B. Jansen, chaplain of Wallkill, will be the attending priest. The 8 a. m. Holy Communion service is temporarily suspended. Two classes of Church School, however, will be in progress during the 11 o'clock service.

Sheehan Is Named Toastmaster for Democratic Rally

F. William (Bill) Sheehan, of Wittenberg, Officer in Charge of the Kingston office of the Veterans Administration, will be the toastmaster at the Woodstock Democratic Club's dinner-rally, Wednesday, Oct. 21.

The big rally which is expected to attract Democratic candidates from all parts of the county will be held at the Holiday Country Inn, on the Saugerties-Woodstock Road at 8 p. m.

In announcing the selection of Sheehan, an ardent Democrat, town chairman Donald Twine said:

"We're happy to have Bill Sheehan as toastmaster for our rally. He is a prominent Democrat and a resident of our township who is interested in its problems. We know he will keep the show moving at a lively clip."

Widely known in veterans circles, Sheehan is a member of Kingston Post No. 150 of the American Legion and the Joyce-Schirick Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. In 1957, he received the American Legion's Distinguished Service award for the year.

In addition to his multiple duties in the VA office, Sheehan has been prominently identified with the March of Dimes, serving as a director, and Kingston city chairman for the annual campaign. He is also well known for his work in helping the physically handicapped.

A native of Troy, but a resident of Kingston and Wittenberg for the past 20 years, Sheehan attended Hillside School, LaSalle Institute and Manhattan College. He is married to the former Rosalia Callaghan of Brooklyn and Phoenicia. They have a son John and two daughters, Ellen and Barbara.

Among the Democratic and Independent candidates who will be introduced at the rally are: Charles J. Tiano, Ind. and Dem., for supervisor; Irving Kalish, councilman; Justice of the Peace Dixon McGrath, candidate for re-election; Mrs. Kathleen DuBois, Ind. and Dem., candidate for town clerk; Louis E. Lewis, superintendent of highways; Mrs. Asta Juell Snider and George Eichler, candidates for assessor.

"The rally will serve as the final springboard toward the election of a complete Democratic slate in Woodstock next month," said Twine. "We invite all people interested in good government to join with us and meet the candidates who will give Woodstock township the kind of government that is desperately needed at the present time."

New First Grade Quarters Ready

The first grade at the Woodstock Elementary school will be divided into two sections effective Monday, Oct. 19, Ronald P. Vanni, director of Elementary Education at Onteora Central School, has announced.

Approximately half of the class will be moved to quarters at the Woodstock Reformed Church for the remainder of the year. Children living in the Byrdcliffe-Glasco Turnpike section of the district (those riding bus 27-Part 1) will be affected by the transfer.

The Board of Education is making this move in an effort to alleviate overcrowding in Woodstock's first grade. Enrollment at this level is currently 41.

New Teacher Hired

Mrs. JoAnne Hoffman has been employed to teach the new section of the class. The program and materials will be the same as that at the Woodstock School building. A lunch program will be provided and special teachers will visit the new location weekly to teach art, music and physical education.

It is expected that the division of the class will enable teachers to give individual attention so necessary at the first grade level.

Fund Campaign Gets Underway in Area For Wellesley

Thirty Wellesley College alumnae of the Mid-Hudson area are joining other Wellesley alumnae throughout continental United States and Hawaii, this month, in a program of utmost importance to the future of their college, the "Personal Call Program." Ulster County "callers," under the chairmanship of Mrs. Theodore Lee of Woodstock, and assisted by Mrs. Lloyd LeFever, chairman of Mid-Hudson area, are Mrs. Terry Staples, Malden-on-Hudson; Mrs. Richard Lent, New Paltz; Mrs. Paul Perlman, Woodstock; Mrs. Katharine Terwilliger, Ellenville; and Mrs. Charles E. Meyer of Kingston. The Rhinebeck area is under the supervision of Mrs. Harry H. Hill, Jr.

During their visits with all the other Wellesley alumnae in the vicinity, pleasant reminiscences of college days will be combined with news of recent campus developments, with attention focused primarily on Wellesley's most urgent requirement today: the need to raise, as soon as possible, $15,000,000 for improvement of faculty salaries.

Thus far, $3,153,201 has been received, representing 21 per cent of the amount needed. The importance for Wellesley, and for all colleges, of attracting and keeping outstanding teachers has been emphasized by Miss Margaret Clapp, president of Wellesley, who has stated, "build up the academic profession now, and ten years from now the profession will take care of the students. Fail now, and we fail forever the children who today crowd our grammar schools and high schools."

The committee planning the local phase of this program also includes Mrs. Ellsworth Holden of Newburgh, president of Mid-Hudson Wellesley Club, Miss Ruth Ellis of Vassar College and Mrs. Robert Ramage of Hopewell Junction.

SON'S WIDOW TO MARRY

Dear Mrs. Post: Our one and only son lost his life two years ago in a tragic accident. He had been married only a very short while to a lovely girl. His wife is going to be married again soon. We are glad for her sake that she has found someone else, but we just could not bear going to the wedding. Would it be wrong for us not to go? I don't want my daughter-in-law to think that we are staying away because we disapprove of her remarrying, but it will only bring back a hurt that we are trying to forget. My husband thinks that much as it will hurt us it will be wrong to stay away and for the sake of our daughter-in-law we should go. What is your opinion?

Answer: Your daughter-in-law surely will understand your not going to the wedding. Write her a letter and tell her that you sincerely wish her every happiness and that you do hope she will not go out of your life, and that you are sure she understands that it would be too trying for you to be present at wedding.

White Tie and Black Tie

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I went to a wedding where the men in the wedding party wore tuxedos. The ushers wore black ties but the groom and best man wore white ties. Was this correct? I have always thought that a white tie was improper with a tuxedo. Have I been mistaken about this?

Answer: You are not mistaken; a black tie should always be worn with a tuxedo and a white one with a tail coat.

When Party Line Is Busy

Dear Mrs. Post: When picking up a party line to make a call and you find that someone is talking on the other line, should you apologize for breaking in on the conversation, or should you just hang up and say nothing?

Answer: Hang up quickly without saying anything.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-9, entitled, "Wedding Forms — Widow and Widower," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York, 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Greco-Pulvirente Wedding Announced

Miss Mary Ann Greco, daughter of Domenico Greco of Mt. Marion, wed Joseph Pulvirente, son of Salvatore Pulvirente of Catania, Sicily, and the late Mary Pulvirente, on Sunday, Sept. 13 at 3 p. m. in St. John's Church, Veteran. The bride is also the daughter of the late Josephine Greco.

The Rev. Daniel Daley, pastor, officiated. It was a double ring ceremony.

Miss Mary Keenan was the organist. Selections included the Ave Maria and On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a pure silk brocade gown of valiant blue styled with a scoop neckline, and side drape. She also wore a matching hat and carried a prayer book with orchid streamers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Vincent Ferraro of Mt. Marion, served as her matron of honor. She wore a green brocaded dress with mink cuffs and matching green accessories. She also wore a green feather hat and an orchid.

The bride's brother-in-law, Vincent Ferraro of Mt. Marion was best man.

Guests were entertained at a reception given in the Tropical Inn.

For her wedding trip to Italy, the bride wore a black wool suit with box jacket and fox collar, black accessories and a white orchid.

The bride was graduated from the Glasco School. Her husband was educated in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Pulvirente will reside in Mt. Marion.

Girl Scout News

Camp Wendy

Nearly 200 Kingston Brownies and Girl Scouts, with their leaders, spent the day at Camp Wendy, the Ulster County Girl Scout camp near Wallkill, last weekend. They left early in the morning by four chartered buses, and arrived at Camp Wendy in one of the most beautiful fall days the Hudson Valley has had.

Scattering over the entire campsite, they hiked, played games, and prepared their lunch. Some of the intermediates cooked their lunch; others brought "nose-bag" lunches and drinks.

After lunch, the entire group gathered for a community sing and a program planned by Nancy Jansen and Carol Gilman of Troop 4, St. James Methodist Church.

Mrs. David Ennis, first vice president of the council, and Mrs. Kevin Rogan, neighborhood chairman, were present to oversee the day's fun. Many of the leaders, some of them new to Girl Scouting this fall, had never seen the Camp Wendy site.

The group returned, tired but happy, in the afternoon, and "District II," the Kingston area of Girl Scouting, pronounced this one of the most enjoyable outings they have had.

Organ Recital Set For This Sunday At Comforter Church

J. Charles Brand, A. G. O., will present an organ recital at 7:30 p. m., Sunday, Oct. 18, in the Sanctuary of the Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Kingston.

Mr. Brand's reputation as a concert organist is reflected by the many favorable comments of such leading authorities as E. Power Biggs, Dr. Elmer Tidmarsh, Duncan Trotter Gillespie and others.

A native of Glen's Falls, Mr. Brand now makes his home in Kingston. He received his schooling at the Batavia School for the Blind and upon his graduation received the award of the New York State Regents Department—The Gold Seal in Music. His repetoire of the standard works of organ literature, which ranges from Bach to the modern compositions, has put him in demand for many recitals.

The concert this Sunday is sponsored by the Young People of the Church of The Comforter. A free will offering will be received. The public is cordially invited.

Hurley Women's Guild Plans Holiday Bazaar

Mrs. Harry Gersback, president of the Women's Guild of the Hurley Reformed Church, has appointed Mrs. James Woodard general chairman of the second annual Christmas bazaar, to be held Saturday, Nov. 14, 10:30 a. m. at 6 p. m. in the basement of the church on Route 209.

This year the bazaar is planned to be bigger and better. Again the Women's Guild, through the board of foreign missions, has been able to secure and repeat imports from Bombay, India, which were a curiosity and a sell-out last year.

Also, from the Hurley kitchens will be delicious baked goods as well as handmade articles to be used for Christmas gifts.

Help From Boy

She Sees Again After 42 Years

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—What is it like to see again after being nearly blind for 42 years?

"It's like a bright streak of lightning. It's all so new."

The words were those of Mrs. Duane Vincent, 45, whose eyesight may have been restored through the thoughtfulness of a young boy.

Mrs. Vincent underwent a corneal transplant two weeks ago. Doctors say it may be several months yet before it is known whether the operation is a complete success.

The corneas were from the eyes of Bobby Jenness, 12, who died Sept. 30 in a traffic mishap. He, and other members of his family, had willed their eyes to an eye-bank only three months before Bobby was killed.

Mrs. Vincent left the hospital Wednesday. Her first wish was to see Bobby's mother Mrs. William S. Jenness.

The two women embraced emotionally, then traveled to Mrs. Vincent's home together where they spent some time talking, mostly about Bobby.

Although doctors cautioned that it will be months yet before they can be sure her eyesight is completely restored, Mrs. Vincent said she can tell the difference already.

Kingston Couple Will Celebrate 58th Anniversary

Mr and Mrs. George Tellier of 9 Susan Street, will observe their 58th wedding anniversary Friday.

Married at St. Peter's Church in Rosendale, the Telliers have five children, 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Mr. Tellier was employed by local banks for more than 19 years. His last position before retiring was with the Rondout National Bank.

Boy, 11, on Bicycle Is In Collision With Car

Joseph Goodman, 11, of 110 West Chestnut Street, was injured slightly Wednesday afternoon when his bicycle and a 1954 automobile collided on Broadway, according to police.

Francis Van Gaasbeck, 27, of 650 Delaware Avenue, told police he was driving a car owned by Michael Galietta south on Broadway when the boy's bicycle came in contact with the right fender of the car.

Police said the boy received bruises of the left knee. He was taken home by Van Gaasbeck.

North Dakota and South Dakota both were admitted to the Union on the same date: November 2, 1889.

Mother Is Held

Girl Weighs 28 Pounds; Locked Up Two Years

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A 7-year-old Phoenix girl, suffering from severe malnutrition, was in the county hospital today after spending the last two years locked in a small bedroom.

Bonnie Marie Shelton weighed only 28 pounds. Doctors said she should weigh about 55 pounds.

Her mother, Ruth Shelton, 31, arrested on a tip from a relative, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Officers indicated additional charges may be filed later.

Juvenile officer Philip Morgan said Mrs. Shelton admitted keeping her daughter locked in the bedroom. He quoted her as saying the child suffered from a glandular disorder "and would eat all the food in the house if I let her."

TAKE NOTICE that a petition has been made by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Ulster, verified September 4, 1959, praying that it may be adjudged that the public use requires the condemnation of the real property hereinafter described and that the plaintiff is entitled to take and hold said property for the public use and that three commissioners of appraisal be appointed by this Court to ascertain and determine the compensation to be made to the owners of said lands to be so acquired; and that such petition will be presented at a Special Term of the County Court of the County of Ulster, to be held at the Court House in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 21st day of October, 1959, at the opening of court on such day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard; and that application will then and there be made for the relief demanded in said petition.

The following is a description of the parcel of land to be acquired in this proceeding and as described in said petition, to wit:

All that parcel of land situate in the Town of Shawangunk, County of Ulster, and State of New York, needed for the reconstruction of the Hoagerburgh Hill Road, County Road No. 70, which parcel is shown upon a certain map filed with the petition in this proceeding in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the northerly boundary of County Road No. 70 at a point 22.0 feet distant, northeasterly, measured at right angles, from station 24+00 of the hereinafter described survey base line for the Bruynswick Bridge, County bridge No. 150, on County Road No. 70, Hoagerburgh Hill Road; thence south 39° 16' east 300.3 feet to a point 35.0 feet distant northeasterly, measured at right angles from station 27+00 of the survey base line; thence south 56° 47' east 538.0 feet to a point in the division line between a parcel of property belonging to Myron H. and Anna A. Coons (reputed owners) on the west and a parcel of property belonging to The Reformed Church of Shawangunk (reputed owner) on the east, such point being 35.0 feet distant, northeasterly measured at right angles, from station 32+38 of the survey base line; thence southwesterly along said property line 5.0 feet to a point in the northerly boundary of County Road No. 70, such point being 30.0 feet distant, northeasterly, measured at right angles, from station 32+38 of the survey base line; thence northwesterly, back and along the northerly boundary of County Road No. 70 for a distance of 838 feet more or less to the point the place of beginning; containing 0.250 acres of land.

The above mentioned survey base line is the survey base line established for the construction and improvement of the Bruynswick Bridge, County Bridge No. 150 on County Road No. 70, Hoagerburgh Hill Road, a portion of which is described as follows:

Beginning at station 23+99.42; thence south 56° 47' east 500.58 feet to station 29+00 P.O.L.; thence south 56° 47' east 200.00 feet to station 31+00 P.O.L.; thence south 56° 47' east 470.00 feet to station 35+70.

All of which is shown on Map No. 11, County Road No. 70 as Parcel No. 16, which map was prepared by the Ulster County Superintendent of Highways.

Out of the Dark

NEW YORK (AP)—The sandhog days of Warren Beatty are paying off for the determined young actor. Beatty, who hails from Richmond, Va., paid for his studies at an acting school here by working as an underground laborer on the recently completed third tube of the Lincoln Tunnel beneath the Hudson River. That chore completed, Beatty went auditioning for stage roles. He has been signed for a key part in the new William Inge play, "Loss of Roses."

Ex-Trooper Free On Fund Charge; Pleads Innocent

LYONS, N. Y. (AP) — Former Wayne County probation officer Richard D. Camp, accused of misappropriating $3,894 in county funds, today was free in custody of his attorney.

Camp pleaded innocent Wednesday to five charges of grand larceny and petit larceny in Wayne County Court. The charges were included in a sealed indictment handed up by the September grand jury. The case was adjourned to Nov. 18.

The alleged irregularities were reported by state auditors making a routine check. The auditors charged that Camp misapplied sums ranging from $110 to $2,094 on five separate occasions from November 1957 to June of this year.

Camp resigned his probation post two months ago, subsequently working as a policeman for the nearby village of Wolcott where he resides, and as a service man for Wolcott business establishments.

Prior to becoming probation officer 10 years ago, Camp was a New York State trooper. He has served two terms as mayor of Wolcott.

Rain, Warm Trend Delays Fall Color

ALBANY — Rain and warm weather in the past two weeks have delayed fall color changes in western and southern New York, reports the State Department of Commerce.

The autumn tapestry of red, gold and orange leaves is now evident in the Adirondack Mountains. Schroon Lake reports fall color at its peak and expects the display to last for another 10 days. Whiteface Mountain, near Lake Placid, terms its color array still "good," with a sprinkle of snow near the summit. The Whiteface Mountain highway is still open, but the Whiteface chair lift has closed for the season.

In western New York State, peak color at Letchworth State Park is not expected before October 17-25, due to heavy rains last week.

Fall rain has also slowed the color change in the Ulster-Greene Counties section of the Catskill Mountains. Best color in the region, depending on cooler weather, should not occur before next week.

A free folder, "The Autumn Colorama in New York State," is available from the State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany 7.

Pennsy Man Held As Navy Deserter

A 22-year-old Williamsport, Pa., man was stopped from committing suicide by gas Wednesday afternoon at a summer camp at Lexington, near Catskill, Greene County, and then arrested for an alleged robbery in Prattsville and for desertion from the U. S. Navy, authorities said.

Dick Eugene Kinney waived examination and is being held in the Catskill jail without bail awaiting grand jury action.

Sgt. James Beckley and Trooper Michael Attera of the Leeds state police are investigating.

Onteora Hosts Rondout Valley In UCAL Clash

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Kingston's invasion of the Poughkeepsie High School field, a pivotal DCSL meeting between Saugerties and Wappingers Falls and an outstanding UCAL clash between Rondout Valley and Onteora highlight the area scholastic football slate this weekend.

The schedule gets underway Friday night with Hudson of the Suburban League outside Albany meeting Port Jervis at the Raiders' gridiron.

KINGSTON at POUGHKEEPSIE—This one will probably decide the DUSO title. It figures to be a tossup with the Pioneers depending on passing to score their points and the locals relying chiefly on a good ground attack. It's been 1955 since Poughkeepsie last beat Kingston. This figures to be the Bridge City club's best chance.

SAUGERTIES at WAPPINGERS—The Sawyers are on the upsurge while the Falls eleven will be out to make up for last week's tough loss against Beacon. The Falls team has a sound offense and much more experience than Bill Straub's club. However, the Sawyers looked impressive in losing a tough one to Highland and then winning with ease against a weak Liberty squad.

RONDOUT VALLEY at ONTEORA — This figures to be a close one with the slight edge to the Ganders. Both are winless and both have to depend on getting the job done with just about eleven players. The Indians have fewer veterans and have not been as impressive as Chick Meehan's club.

NEWBURGH at LINTON—The improving Goldbacks should capture their third win of the cmapaign. Linton has not been a football powerhouse in years and is still in the rebuilding stage. NFA is slowly reaching its peak.

OAKWOOD at NEW PALTZ—A good workout for the Huguenots, UCAL leaders. The Quakers are very weak and New Falzt is aiming for an unbeaten season.

ARLINGTON at HIGHLAND—Another close one is anticipated here. Fritz Jordan's boys are the surprise of the league but Highland is big and tough and should manage to keep their unbeaten mark in DCSL play.

MARLBORO at WALLKILL—Another long trip for Jack Kroh's boys. Wallkill is the second best club in the UCAL while Marlboro is only so-so. Ralph Bilbao is back in action and he should spell the difference.

BEACON at ROOSEVELT—Another lost weekend for the hapless Presidents. Beacon is a tenacious club on defense and has enough offense to score when a touchdown is needed. Roosevelt is very weak.

PEEKSKILL AT MIDDLETOWN — The Middies have dropped 12 ia row. This one will be number 13 against a powerful Westchester County club.

HUDSON at PORT JERVIS—A good, close battle with the edge to the home side. The Raiders are due to break loose and this figures to be the time. Hudson has a 2-1 record, losing to Wappingers Falls.

CATCHER—Kyle Rote, 30 and in his ninth professional campaign, remains a favorite target for the New York Giants' passer, Charlie Conerly. The robust Texan plays a lot of end.

Bill Schabot, leadoff for the Jones Dairy No. 1 squad, took all the marbles with a 652 in the Bowlero Major last night. His city leading series includes games of 188, 202 and 262.

Tess Moss led the distaff department with a 557 blast on 186, 192 and 179.

GAIL ABBOTT'S 503 paced the Cayuga League, with Aaron Rosenberg hitting 500. Corporals are leading the league with a 11-4 record. Tied with 9 and 6 marks are the Mercuries, Larks, Polaris and Nikes.

Kuharich Adds The Pros' Touch To Irish Attack

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

New names and faces, a new attack and the smart look of professional coaching will mark the Notre Dame football team that plays Michigan State in the national television game Saturday.

Coach Joe Kuharich, who left the pro Washington Redskins last winter to take over for deposed Coach Terry Brennan at Notre Dame, has turned out a team that has won two of its first three games despite a plague of injuries and inexperience.

In fact, Kuharich has seven sophomores on the first team for Saturday's game, including three in the backfield, and a line that has a sophomore left side.

Veteran quarterback George Izo, who played his first 1959 game against California last week, is the only veteran in the backfield. He is supported by sophs George Sefcic and Angelo Daberio as halfbacks, and Gerry Gray at fullback.

Daberio and Gray have seen a good deal of action, with the latter taking over for the injured Jim Crotty against California and winding up as the team's leading ground-gainer with 55 yards in 12 tries, and one touchdown.

Crotty and guard Myron Pottios, both hurt last week, will see no action, with the latter finished for the year with torn knee ligaments.

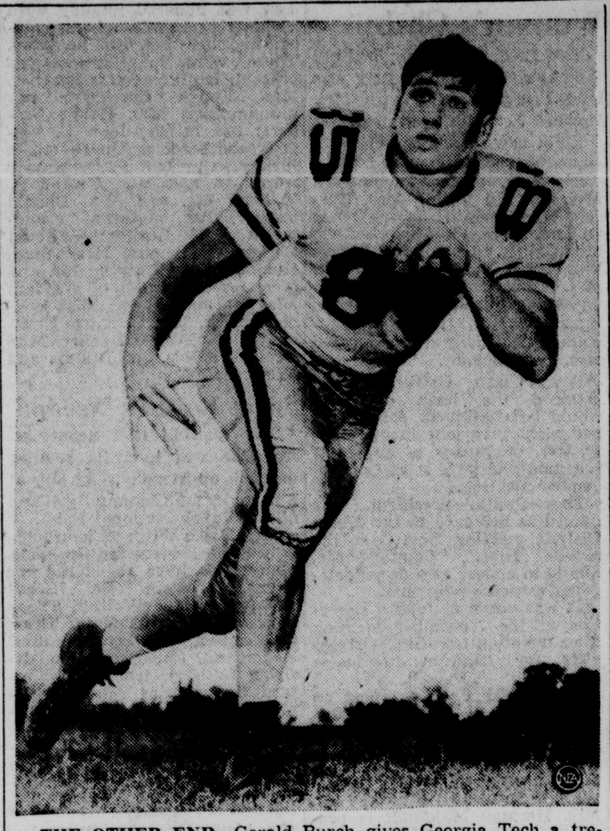
All of these annoyances have left Kuharich, a former Notre Dame football player, undaunted. He has installed a T-formation pro-type offense, where both of his ends are split 15 to 20 yards, with a halfback in the slot between an end and tackle.

Name Menendez MG at Toronto

TORONTO (AP) —Danny Menendez, 41, was named general manager of the Toronto International League baseball club today and Mel McGaha, 33, the new field manager.

The appointments were announced by Jack Kent Cooke, the club owner.

Menendez, who was general manager for the Memphis Chicks in the Southern Assn. since 1956, succeeds Rudy Schaeffer who resigned after serving as Leaf general manager since 1955. McGaha, who managed Mobile in the Southern Assn. last summer, succeeds Dixie Walker who resigned when Toronto finished in the IL cellar.



THE OTHER END—Gerald Burch gives Georgia Tech a tremendous kicker at one end and the other is looked after by the highly capable Jack Rudulph, above. Speed and savvy.

Cardinal Farley Harriers Trip Onteora Central, 22-33

Gallo finished 22 seconds ahead of teammate, Tom Haggerty, to give the Academy a 1-2 finish.

The Onteora tandem of Gene Gormley and George Muller tied for third place in a 11:25 clocking.

1. Dan Gallo, CFMA, 10:36
2. Tom Haggerty, CFMA, 10:58
3. Gene Gormley, OCS, 11:25
4. George Muller, OCS, 11:25

Yanks Purchase Billy Short

Billy Short of Newburgh, who won 17 and lost 6 with Richmond of the International League this season, is one of eight players promoted by the New York Yankees yesterday.

Short's contract was purchased by the Yankees, along with seven other players: outfielder Deron Johnson and first baseman Frank Leja, who have been to Yankee training camps before; Bill Bethel, a right-hander from Omaho (13-11); George Haney, right-hander from Kearney, Neb. (6-1) of the all-rookie Nebraska State League; Harold Stowe, lefty from Fargo, N. D. (5-4) of the Northern League; Johnny James relief hurler for Richmond (9-6); and Ed Dick, left-hander from Richmond (7-10).

To make room for the newcomers, five other players were assigned to the Yanks' Richmond farm of the International League. Shifted to Richmond were outfielders Gordon Windhorn and Dick Sanders; first baseman John Jaciuk and pitchers Gary Blaylock and Rudy Serrett.

Football Briefs

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Third-string quarterback Dave Pitkin will work at right half position Saturday, when Cornell meets Yale for the homecoming football game here.

Coach Lefty James made the shift Wednesday to give his team added depth.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Bob Yates, a place-kicking specialist from Montpelier, Vt., will act as co-captain of the Orange football team Saturday against unbeaten Holy Cross.

Yates, a 230-pound tackle will share the job with halfback Ger Schwedes, the permanent captain of the undefeated Orange.

Yates was named Wednesday.

Jones' 2.81 Tops National League; Miller Has 2.84

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Sam (Toothpick) Jones of the San Francisco Giants, with a hefty assist from the rival Los Angeles Dodgers, edged defending champion Stu Miller to win the 1959 earned run title.

Jones, a 21-game winner, allowed 85 earned runs in 271 innings for an earned run average of 2.82. Miller, Giants' slowball specialist, gave up 53 earned runs in 168 innings for a 2.84 mark, statistics compiled by the Associated Press revealed today.

The best earned run average by far among the regular hurlers was posted by Roger Craig of Los Angeles. He finished with 2.06. The veteran right-hander, however, pitched only 152 2-3 innings, 1 1-3 innings short of the minimum requirement.

The Dodgers' sensational comeback and ultimate 12-inning victory in the final playoff game Sept. 29 cost Craig the ERA crown. If the Dodgers had lost, Craig would have worked the third game and almost certainly picked up the 1 1-3 innings he needed. As it turned out, he started the first game of the World Series against the Chicago White Sox, pitching 2 1-3 innings which do not count in the regular season's records.

Jones, who did a workhorse job as a starter and reliever, pitched four shutouts, including a seven-inning no-hitter against St. Louis in his final start, Sept. 26. Miller had an 8-7 record.

Bob Buhl, Milwaukee, finished third. A 15-game winner, Buhl allowed 63 earned runs in 198 innings for a 2.86 ERA. Warren Spahn of the Braves was fourth with 2.96.

Vern Law, Pittsburgh, and Gene Conley, Philadelphia, tied for fifth at 3.00.

Providence Streak Halted by Hershey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just when it appeared the Providence Reds were intent on going through the American Hockey League season undefeated, they lost to Hershey Bears Wednesday night in a sudden-death overtime, 3-2. They previously had won four straight.

Willie Marshall, veteran right winger, shot the puck into the net after 25 seconds of the overtime to give the Bears their first victory on home ice.

Their record now is 2-1-1.

Well, it had to happen sometime, but Kingston need not hang its head in shame. New Rochelle, as has been the case in most seasons, is loaded again this year and in this reporter's opinion, the Kingston players did a good job in holding the visitors to only a 21-6 score.

Though it was the Huguenots first game, one could see from the opening kickoff that this team had everything—class, a good offense, one of the best quarterbacks we have seen in many seasons on an opposing team, and a rock ribbed defense.

In 1960 New Rochelle will have all but four players back and it appears the future is on the bright side at that school.

Anyway, with the pressure now off, Coach Bill Burke's boys can concentrate on winning a fourth straight DUSO League title and from this corner, it appears that only Poughkeepsie stands in the way. The Pioneers will be played on Saturday and the winner will probably take home the title.

ANOTHER ALL-AMERICAN?

Monty Stickles' climb to All-America rating at Notre Dame raises the question: Has there ever been another All-America gridder from the Hudson Valley? The answer is yes.

Eddie Messinger, a former Kingston High School player, made headlines for West Point in the 1920's and he became an All-American player as an end.

Bud Kerr, a native of Newburgh, made the sport pages for the Fighting Irish 20 years ago. He also was an end and his feats gained him top honors in many of the post-season polls.

Messinger stayed in the Army after his graduation from the Point. Kerr turned to coaching and is now head man at Dayton University. The strange part of his career is that he was never a football regular while in high school.

DOTS . . . .

Port Jervis, which has suffered through four straight football losses, also will miss the services of Steve Crine, one of the three playing brothers on its squad. He suffered a broken arm on the first play in the Poughkeepsie game and it out for the season. . . . It never rains, it pours. . . . Ellenville rates the favorite role as the DUSO Soccer season enters its second week. Monticello is defending champion. Other clubs in the circuit are Fallsburgh and Middletown. . . . Hobie Armstrong followers might be happy to know that the Harvard Frosh play home on Oct. 16 against Boston College and Nov. 7 against Princeton while the gridders are at Dartmouth on Oct. 25, at Brown on Oct. 31 and at Yale on Nov. 20. . . . The Cobleskill Aggies have an Ulster County flavor as their famed Cross Country team lists among others, Lew Faxon of Saugerties and the two Schopinskys of Marlboro.

AND DASHES . . .

Lou Amonson, football coach at New Rochelle High School, tells us that Jim Counts, who scored a touchdown for Illinois against Army a couple of weeks ago and last Saturday tallied the winning TD against Ohio State, is a future star at the Mid West school. . . . Two other DUSO League baseball stars will be following Chick Boice of Kingston into professional baseball. They are catcher Herb Boschen and pitcher Fred Lasher of Poughkeepsie High. They are expected to sign with the Washington Senators. . . . Rusty Peterson, Kingston's ex-cross country star, finished fifth in a dual meet at West Point last Friday while running for the Syracuse Frosh. He was the second best runner for the Orange in the meet.

THE PASSING TIME . . .

Several seasons ago, Kingston High School had a fine All-DUSO guard in Bob Delanoy. Today, the starting tackle for the KHS Freshmen players, who are, unbeaten in three games, is Larry Delanoy, son of the ex-star. Who knows, we may have another star in the making.

Durocher Says Tribe Offered Three-Year Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Leo Durocher says he was offered a three-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians but turned it down the day before the American League club rehired Joe Gordon.

"There were a couple of other things I wanted in the contract," Durocher told newsmen Wednesday night in explaining why he turned down an offer made by Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane and Vice President Nate Dolin.

"They met with me in Pittsburgh about two weeks before the end of the season," Durocher said. "They made me a solid, three-year offer."

Durocher, who was here to address an organization of Chrysler Corp. executives, said the contract was all drawn up but after studying it he said he telephoned Lane and turned down the post.

Durocher said he recently talked to Milwaukee Braves owner Lou Perini, "but we didn't directly discuss the manager's job."

Branch Rickey, head of the proposed third major league, also has made an offer, said Durocher, who formerly managed the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Katsbaan Tavern Gains 78-73 Win Over Italian-American 5

Undefeated Katsbaan Tavern raillied in the last five minutes to overpower arch rival, American-Italian Restaurant, 78-73, despite a 39-point barrage by the Al's George Carpouzis.

Carpouzis canned 15 fields and picked up 9 of 14 free throw attempts. Ronnie Scheffel potted 28 points and Frank (Yip) Koenig bucketed 24 for the winners.

In a companion game, Sicker's Delivery toppled the Tarantulas, 60-54. Ray Lawrence paced the winners with 14 points and Mel Williams matched that total for the Tarantulas.

American-Italian cagers led Katsbaan, 40-36, at the intermission, but the last five minutes of play resolved into a sensational running duel betwcen Carpouzis on the one side and Scheffel and Koenig on the other.

John (Buddy) Smith bolstered the Katsbaan triumph with 18 points, while Marty Kaye contributed 16 points to the losers' cause.

Williams Wants Liston Return

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —Cleveland Williams demanded another rematch with Sonny Liston today after knocking out Curley Lee, a rugged newcomer from California.

Williams had to wait until 58 seconds of the 10th and final round of Wednesday night's nationally televised heavyweight fight before landing a left uppercut that knocked Lee unconscious for two minutes.

Lee, substituting for the injured Liston, had won two of the last three rounds with a strong comeback after taking a pair of eight-count knockdowns in the fifth.

Williams also held a 30-pound weight advantage but entered the final round with only a narrow lead over the battling Lee. Lee weighed 181¼, Williams 211.

It was the 38th knockout in 49 fights for Williams. One of his three losses was a third round knockout by Liston last April in Miami Beach. Liston, ranked No. 3, had to withdraw from Wednesday night's match when he injured a hand in a Philadelphia workout two weeks ago.

Alston Is Voted Manager of Year

DARRTOWN, Ohio (AP) — This may come as a shock to Los Angeles but on the main street in this town with its population of 200 there are two big signs which say "Darrtown, Baseball Capital of the World."

In his home a block away, Walter Alston responded in his usual reticent manner when told members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America had voted him National League Manager of the Year in an Associated Press poll.

Alston is manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who last week won the baseball World Series.

"It sure is nice," said Alston with his shy smile, "but it was a team effort."

The Dodgers last year finished seventh in the National League and then, this year, they came on to tie Milwaukee for the National League pennant, win it in a two-game playoff and then beat the Chicago White Sox in a six-game World Series.

"The fellows worked hard for it," said Alston. "They started the first day of spring training, or even before, because all of them reported in good shape."

What about next year?

"We don't intend to stand pat," he said, "but I can't name any particular spot we want to improve."

New Haney Post

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Haney, who resigned as the Milwaukee Braves' manager, has signed to do the commentary on a baseball show starting Oct. 24 on Los Angeles station KCOP-TV.

The program, "Major League Baseball Presents," will appear each Saturday at 9 p.m. Haney, once a baseball announcer here, will do a video-taped commentary on outstanding major league games played this year.

Watson's Scalp Is Still Intact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hockey fans are not yelping for Phil Watson's scalp. Neither is Watson snapping at the players even though his New York Rangers have dropped their first four National Hockey League games.

It is all so different from a year ago, when the Rangers tied three and lost one of their first four games, proceeded to make a strong bid for a playoff berth only to lose out when they dropped six of their last seven games.

Then the Ranger coach tore his players apart for their mistakes, publicly and privately.

But this is a different Watson. He refused to berate his players even after they had blown a three-goal lead and lost to the Boston Bruins 4-3 in their home opener Wednesday night.

"They know when they make a mistake," said Watson, almost quietly. "They are pros."

The victory, achieved with Vic Stasiuk tallying the deciding goal with 30 seconds remaining, gave the Bruins undisputed possession of first place. Midway of the final period rookie Dick Meissner had tied it.

Leo Labine and Bronco Horvath got the Bruins under way late in the second period after Bill Gadsby and John Hanna had tallied for the Rangers in the first and Dean Prentice had made it 3-0 at 9:45 of the second period.

ONE-TWO—Jim Maxfield, left, and Joe Tranchini give Navy one of the finest one-two punches in college quarterbacking. The passing pair line up behind Center Jim Dunn.

That sideline pacer, George Halas, caused Ram linebacker Les Ritcher to reminisce about the time he saw the referee throw a handkerchief in the air before Papa Bear, signifying a penalty. . . . Halas gently pleaded with the officials for justice. . . . The referee ruled for the Rams. . . . Papa Bear George started chewing them out, ending up with ". . . please, please." . . . "Rams' ball," said the referee decisively. . . . "Why, you no good blankety-blanks," exploded the vigorous Chicago coach. . . .

And owner-coach Halas chided Colt owned Carroll Rosenbloom before his club upset Baltimore: "So you think they ought to lock all us coaches up in the dressing room." . . . appropos of Carroll's comments to this corner about excitable coaches. . . .

Rhode Island's Herb Maack profers the perfect advice on how to coach in small college circles: "Make sure you don't win more than two years in a row because then they won't do anything to help you. How to get yourself in a predicament: the Giants signed Lee Grosscup, the Utah quarterback, to a non-release contract for $12,500 . . . after giving him a considerable bonus for signing . . . but when they decided he couldn't beat out the incumbent quarterbacks, they put him on waivers after the NFL nixed a plan to make him a coach . . . all clubs passed on him, so Grosscup drew his release but still gets paid $12,500 while sitting around . . . and he's ineligible to be put on the active list even in a jam . . . now the Giants have to dicker with him as a free agent and he's mulling a fine two-year contract offer, at a raise . . . but without that non-release clause. . . .

Another ex-Giant, Gene Filipski, writes from Calgary that he's vieing with Johnny Bright for Western Canada ground-gaining laurels . . . and hasn't dropped a pass in 23 thrown at him. . . .

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy has signed a contract as general manager of the Los Angeles club in the American Football League. Barron Hilton, president of the club, did not disclose salary or length of contract in making the announcement Wednesday.

AP Back of Week Likes Defense

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —Surprise: quarterback Richie Lucas of Penn State, the Associated Press Back of the Week, loves to play defense.

And, says Coach Rip Engle, Lucas proved it Saturday in undefeated Penn State's 17-11 victory over Army.

"You usually think of a quarterback as the glamor boy in a football game," Engle said. "But in the Army game, Lucas proved that he can go in there and do the tough, dirty job the same as any other football player."

It was both Lucas' defensive and offensive play against Army that earned him the Back of the Week honors Wednesday. He twice intercepted important passes, made several key tackles, scored two touchdowns, passed for 97 yards and ran for 60.

"He's the modern version of the triple-threat back who can do it all," Engle said.

"It's too bad there isn't an AP Team of the Week because all of us worked extremely hard for the win over Army," Lucas said.

Midwest Horse Raceway Surprise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An invader from the Midwest, dismissed as a rank outsider by Eastern fans, upended the tote board in his first appearance at Roosevelt Raceway.

Rip's Boy, a 7-year-old gelding from Tipton, Ind., moved from seventh place at the three-quarter mark and scored by a head in the Garden City handicap pace Wednesday night.

He paid $34.10, coursing the mile in 2:04 1-5. Sea Pirate was second and Coast Dale finished third.

The winner was driven by Harold Snodgrass for owner O. B. Swinford of Tipton.

Driver Harry Motsiff of Cambridge was suspended for five days by order of the state judges at Saratoga Raceway yesterday.

Allowed Passing

Motsiff was found guilty of needlessly allowing a driver to pass him on the inside. The incident that led to his suspension occurred Tuesday night, when Motsiff drove Miss Bonnie Jack, a 25-1 shot, in the ninth race. The race was won by Hasty Fingo, a 15-1 bet.

Drivers in possession of the inside are required by racing rules not to allow themselves to be passed on the inside.

Last night's feature at Saratoga, the Pittsfield Pace, was won by Jack Frost in 2:08 2-5. The winner paid $34.60.

Russell's Rally Gains Him Standoff With 'The Stilt'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — For three quarters Wednesday night Wilt Chamberlain made proud Bill Russell look like an ordinary basketball player.

But the veteran Boston Celtics' star felt the sting of the young giant's challenge and in the fourth period herded the pro basketball champs to a 103-98 exhibition victory over Philadelphia at the Minneapolis Armory.

Russell pumped in eight points in the final minutes for the Celtics' victory margin, although Chamberlain outscored him 26-16 and played him even off the backboards. It was the first pro clash between Chamberlain, the 7-2 former Globe Trotter, and the 6-10 Celtic defensive wizard.

A thin crowd of 2,500 turned out for the Minneapolis Lakers' promotional extravaganza featuring Wilt, Russell, heavyweight champ Ingemar Johansson and Minneapolis' Elgin Baylor.

Gross Disapointing

The Lakers drew some extra consolation in their 100-94 victory over Detroit in the opener of the National Basketball Assn. double header. Baylor, in uniform for the first time since he starred in the 1959 playoffs, hit 16 points to help break a Laker losing streak.

Johansson appeared between games, answering questions put to him in English by sportswriter Halsey Hall and in Swedish by Minneapolis Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson.

"My right hand still moves pretty fast. I don't think Floyd Patterson can change his style very much to stop it." Johansson replied to a question from an admirer.

He isn't certain, he said, whether he can knock out Patterson again. A few hours earlier, though he repeated his faith in his right hand punch: "It moves so fast it's hard for the opponent to know where it is going."

Fund Campaign, Halloween, Topic Of Youth Council

A fund raising membership campaign and plans for Halloween were the chief items of discussion at the Saugerties Youth Council meeting Wednesday night at Saugerties village clerk's office.

According to plans announced by Chairman Vernon Joe Benjamin honorary memberships will be voted to all citizens interested in the youth of Saugerties. A nominal membership fee will accepted as a donation for operational expenses of the council.

Social Activities Chairman Mrs. Rita Gavigan reported on arrangements for the annual Halloween parade and dance Saturday, Oct. 31.

The costume parade for the entire community will start at the municipal building 7 p. m. at the sound of the fire siren. After the march through the main business streets, the costume judging will be held at the municipal auditorium.

Following the judging and presention of ten $5 cash awards for originality, attractiveness and funniest costumes, Winthrop Emmons and the Saugerties High School dance band will provide music for dancing. Peter Pocalyko will serve as master of ceremonies.

The parade will include Saugerties Drum Corps, C. A. Lynch fire truck and honorary grand marshal. Nancy Misasi Miss Saugerties of 1960 and her attendants, Denise Rethier and Carole Larsen.

Refreshments will include cider, apples and donuts. The donuts will be provided by Saugerties Girls Community Club.

Chairman Benjamin will be parade marshal and members of the council will direct the activities of the evening during the parade and dance in the auditorium.

The next meeting of the council was scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p. m. in Saugerties village clerk's office.

Project New Bond Issue in School Expansion Survey

Saugerties Central School District architects projected a May 15 bond issue vote for either a new elementary school or additional rooms for existing buildings, in a preliminary timetable outlined in a survey for the board of education.

The timetable projected dates as follows:

Cost survey of each—a new elementary school o radditional classrooms—to provide for new registrations, Dec. 1, 1959; preliminary plans, Feb. 15, 1960; additions and corrections to preliminary plans, March 15, 1960; possible bond issue vote May 15, 1960; bids for work, Jan. 1961, and new facilities ready for use, Sept. 1962.

The school census shows that approximately 200 elementary pupils will probably have to be placed on a half-time schedule next fall because of a shortage oof classrooms.

In the high school, the Board of Education hopes that by using every nook and cranny of the building it may be able to avoid placing high school pupils on a half-time schedule until year after next. All classrooms throughout the system are now in use, and 2,550 pupils are enrolled. It is anticipated that not fewer than 200 additional pupils will enter the system next fall. Within five years 900 additional pupils will necessitate 28 additional rooms.

The board discussed the possible time schedule with the architects, who were represented at a meeting this week by Sarkis Arkell, one of the partners in the firm, and Donald Lansing, engineer. Arkell gave the board the following timetable of approximate dates—all based, of course, upon decisions by the board and by the voting public. The schedule runs somewhat as follows: the educational consultants for the architects are now studying the statistics and will make a recommendation at the next monthly meeting of the board regarding the building program that the architects recommend. By the time of the next meeting in December, approximate costs for various plans will be made available for the architects.

Following this, approximately two months will be required for preliminary plans for whatever building program is proposed. Following this a month will be required for any desired changes in the plans. This will bring the board to March 15. Assuming that the board were then ready to act and submit a building proposal to the public, it might be possible to ask the taxpayers to vote on the question by April 15. Since time would be necessary to inform the public of the facts it is more likely that this date would be May 15, the architects said. If the vote of the taxpayer is favorable, bids would be secured by January 1, and the contract let by approximately February 1, 1960.

A group of parents of the Whittier development from the North Flatbush area presented the Board of Education with a petition this week asking transportation for their pupils to the parochial schools in Kingston.

The board promised the petitioners to consider the matter and will give them a decision later. One taxpayer from the North Flatbush District asked the board for the location of the district line. Morris Rosenblum, attorney for the district, present at the meeting, pointed out that school district lines are traditionally determined by the district in which an individual pays his taxes. In the case of a district such as North Flatbush the question of district lines was determined many years ago.

Two members of the School Interest Committee were present at the meeting, Miss Grace Anderson and Mrs. Ruby Wilde. The board assured these two people that their committee would be kept informed of any proposed steps in the building program for the district.

A delegation of parents was present from Mount Marion and requesteed use of the gymnasium there two nights a week for the purpose of holding games for boys in the age ranges of 8-12 and 12-14. They promised to have two responsible local adults present at each game. The board agreed to the request.

The board of education approved the plan of Building Superintendent David Hildebrandt to provide a road entrance to the Hill Street property so that delivery trucks may enter there without the hazards that are now present. The Hill Street building, which is estimated to be 100 years old, is currently used by the board of education as a receiving center for all supplies for the entire school district. Hildebrandt was also authorized to engage a matron and an additional man to add to the custodial force for working in the various buildings.

Attendance of two board members at the annual associated school boards meeting in Syracuse, was authorized. The two representatives will be Richard Smith and Harry Hoffman.

M-WC Vols Hear Of Testimonial For Exempt Men

Arrangements for a testimonial dinner honoring 12 newly exempt firemen — 11 of them charter members—was endorsed at the Tuesday night meeting of Malden-West Camp Fire Company at Malden fire station.

President John J. Helfert told the members that the Ladies' Auxiliary of the fire company was seeking endorsement of its project to honor the charter members who founded the fire company five years ago.

Preliminary plans call for Supervisor Peter M. Williams to present the exemption certificates at the dinner. The time, place and confirmation of arrangements will be discussed at the auxiliary meeting Tuesday, Oct. 13 to be held at Malden fire station at 8 p. m.

Those to be honored are Charles J. Graf, charter president; Valmore F. Carpenter, charter chief; Albert J. Cawein, charter secretary; Charles Teetsel, a former chief and past president; William R. Wrolsen, present chief; Harold W. Bennett, present recording secretary; Emmett Vedder, Harry L. Moose, John J. Prendergast, Cyrill Myers, Leon Magee, and John T. Wynne.

An amendment to Section 2, Part B of the by-laws regarding the mechanics of accepting an application of membership from an exempt member of another fire company, was approved after the final reading.

President Helfert's announcements included a notice from the Ladies Auxiliary that it was conducting a card party social in West Camp fire station Saturday 8 p. m. The auxiliary asked for donations of awards and support of its project.

Helfert also reported for the building committee indicating that the brick veneering project at Malden station was progressing. He also alerted the volunteers of the election for a fire commissioner on the first Tuesday in December. The term of Graf expires.

Regarding the drilling of wells for drinking water in both fire stations, President Helfert reported he had contacted Leon LeBreton and Son of Malden and asked them to start drilling at one of the fire stations. He and a committee will check LeBreton again to determine if work can be started before the winter.

Carpenter thanked the volunteers who donated blood to the VFW community blood bank. He reported the VFW is conducting an emergency drawing Thursday, Oct. 22 at 7 p. m. at the VFW Hall.

Chief Wrolsen reported on a fire covered by the company at the Thruway gas station at Malden. He also reported on the negotiations fora piece of property at the edge of the vly in West Camp which the fire company needs for water supply. Wrolsen asked for volunteers to do some work on the property. Helfert appointed the following:

Prendergast, Moose, Carl Heese Jr., Carpenter, Wrolsen, Stanley, Carle, Floyd Mickel, and Graf.

Assistant Chief Vedder reporter he was ordering the grave markers for the deceased members. He also said the two-way radio hook-up in both stations was in operation and ready for use.

Chief Wrolsen asked for funds to purchase a dart board and stand for the newly formed fire company dartball team in the Saugerties League. The award of the month was presented by John Fiero of Malden.

Monday Club Will View River Scenes On H-C Program

Saugerties Monday Club will participate on a pictorial tour of the Hudson River from New York to Saugerties at its Monday meeting, 2 p. m. at Stroomzeit, home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Knaust.

The program has been scheduled in conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

Mrs. Chester Glunt, coordinator of the Saugerties Citizens Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration will show 150 of some 2,000 color slides she has in her collection. Mrs. Glunt will also provide the commentary, describe the location of the scenes and give some of the historical background of the views.

Justice Brinnier Addresses Rotary On Local Courts

Justice of the Peace William D. Brinnier, III, of Saugerties was the guest speaker at the Tuesday night meeting of Saugerties Rotary Club at Katsbaan Inn.

Justice Brinnier explained the functions of the local courts and discussed its limitations and the laws that founded the justice courts.

His talk included court experiences. Justice Brinnier also cited the increased volume of cases created in the local courts since the opening of the State Thruway.

Special guest at the meeting was the Rev. William J. Weidt who was state director of the refugee resettlement program of the United Lutheran Church of America. The Rev. Mr. Weidt is a former resident of Glenerie and now resides in Mt. Vernon. He attended with the Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Atonement, also a guest.

Sawyer Debaters Launch Season With 17 Wins

Saugerties High School debaters launched their 1959-60 varsity season this past weekend at Hamilton College by copping 17 wins against 7 losses.

Canisius replaced Jamestown as the Sawyer jinx by taking first place in the Mandeville trophy series. Arlington tied Canisius 6-2 but trailed on speaker points to finish second. George Popewicz paired with Paul Kruger turned in the tourney's best performance for Saugerties as they toppled Burnt Hills, McQuaid, and Aquinas while losing to Norwich.

Malcolm MacKay and Nancy Misasi representing the affirmative on the topic "Resolved that the recommendations of the Conant report should be adopted" defeated Jeffersonville and St. Francis but lost to Webster and Columbia.

Saugerties 5-3 record placed them in a third place tie.

In the B division Saugerties debaters Hannah McLonnan, Arlene Krom, Charlotte Bell and Patricia Sasso swept to seven victories against a lone defeat, for first place honors shared with Albany. Charlotte and Pat turned in a perfect record against Newburgh, Styvesant, McQuaid and Canisius while the negative lost only to the Columbia squad in defeating Arlington, Canisius and McQuaid.

Saugerties hopes for the fall season are carried largely by a sophomore-senior squad as many of the junior members are tied up as football players.

Sharon Johnson, Virginia Roeser, and Lynn Broome and Charles Hall however piloted the second B squad to a third place tie in the B division with 5 victories against 3 defeats. The sophomore entry at Hamilton is the first appearance of sophomores in a fall invitational for the Blue and White. Saugerties cumulative score was the tourney's best but regretably no sweepstakes or B trophy was awarded.

Epistle From Eskimos

NEW YORK (AP) — Alaskan Eskimos have chipped in to aid American missionary work in Greece, reports the Rev. Spiros Zodhiates, general secretary of the American Mission to Greeks, Inc.

After seeing a film, "Men of Macedonia," regarding the Macedonian Bible Institute at Katerini, Greece, several hundred Eskimos pooled their resources to send a donation—and said in a letter they were praying for Greece.

HadJudgeFigured Right, No Jail Till Next Time

Patrolman Wilmont Hall would have lost a bet if he had accepted it when he arrested John Wilson, 49, of 61 Water Street, New Haven, Conn., Wednesday night on a public intoxication charge.

Hall said in his information filed against Wilson the defendant was intoxicated on Broadway near Cedar Street, and when he took him in custody Wilson attempted to make a wager that City Judge Aaron E. Klein wouldn't confine him to jail "as he never did in the past."

Hall didn't accept the bet, and one policeman said Hall passed up the wager because he might have felt this time Wilson would do some time in jail.

Wilson was in City Court this morning.

"I understand you are a betting man," remarked the judge.

"No, I'm not," replied Wilson.

The judge then read that part of Hall's information that included the attempted wager.

"Well, I'm not going to send you to jail this time but the next time I will," said the judge.

Wilson received a 10-day suspended sentence and he went on his way after thanking the court for the suspension.

"Hall would have lost the bet," said a by-stander.

Reports Thefts From Car While Downtown

It was a costly nap that Anderson C. Lane, of 172 Pearl Street took Wednesday night, while his 195333 auto was parked on Chambers Street near Meadow Street.

Lane complained to police that he fell asleep in his parked car, and when he awoke he discovered a green and blue jacket valued at $5 and a card case containing his driver's license and car registration missing from his person.

Lane also said someone had taken a gallon can of antifreeze from the vehicle. Detectives are investigating.

Seeks Presidency

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Graham Gray of Norfolk, a barber for nigh onto 40 years, plans to take some time off next year—to run for president of the United States.

Gray, 53, announced his candidacy Wednesday from behind Chair No. 2 at a downtown barber shop. He said he expects to qualify for the ballot as the candidate of the "Independent party," and that he will "accept John L. Lewis for vice president."

He says he's for "free government enterprise and constitutional rights."

'58 Cigarette Output Hit 1,971 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enough cigarettes were produced last year to make a carpet seven feet wide and one cigarette thick from the earth to the moon, the Agriculture Department reported today.

The world output was 1,971 billion cigarettes—470 billion of them American. That was an increase of 4½ per cent over 1957 for the world total.

To reach the moon at its closest point to the earth, the cigarette carpet would have to extend 221,900 miles.

Jerry — The girl you were speaking to, Jack, seemed rather cold to you.

Jack—Yes, she's an old flame.

If a man puts all his property in his wife's name, in a financial emergency he finds that he can get no accommodation at the bank. His wife can do so, but he cannot.

If a man keeps his religion in his wife's name, it is more than likely that when an emergency results in his requiring accommodations in heaven, he will have the same experience he would have at the bank.

PUZZLE — Two motorcycle cops paused behind a large billboard to lie in wait for speeding violators. One officer looked up the road, the other looked down it, so as to cover all territory. "Pat" said one without turning his head, what are you smiling at?" How could he tell that Pat was smiling?

Both were facing each other.

DOG FRIENDS

As I go whistling down the street
I have so many friends to greet,
Perhaps they'd be just dogs to you —
To me they're friends, and all true blue.
A happy bark, a friendly tail,
Straightforward eyes to greet my hail,
Each one all eagerness to please,
I'm proud to have such friends as these.
I think it's sad all men don't know
The qualities that dogs can show,
But as for me, my day's more sweet
Because I have such friends to greet.

— Solveig Paulson in "Our Dumb Animals."

Neighbor—"How?"

Wife—"Hid his teeth."

It seems that Adam and Eve had got around to naming the animals.

Eve—I think I'll call that one a hippopotamus.

Adam—Why?

Eve—I don't know. I suppose it just looks more like a hippopotamus than any of the others.

RELAPSE

I lived after the fever,
I'm cured of the chills,
But they both come back
With the doctor bills.

—Edsel Ford

Why We Say--

TABLECLOTH: In the 1890's the bigger the napkin used at a meal, the more important it was. Napkin actually came from the Old French word "nape" for tablecloth.

TIZZY By KATE OSANN

"Of course I'm sure it's true what they're saying about her! After all, I'm her best friend!"

A visitor to New Mexico was talking to a sun-browned native, and commented on the lack of rain.

Visitor—Doesn't it EVER rain here?

Native—Mister, do you remember the story of Noah and the Ark, and how it rained 40 days and 40 nights?

Visitor—Sure I do.

Native—Well, we got a half-inch that time.

Close Call

ADA, Okla. (AP)—A hunk of iron J. T. Robinson had observed partially covered behind his service station turned out to be a fully-armed 155mm shell. It was hauled off by an Army demolition team.

Second Fall Fatal

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Eight years ago steeplejack Archie Beaton was injured seriously in a 65-foot fall while painting the inside of a water tower. Wednesday, Beaton, 43, was killed in an 125-foot fall while painting the interior of a water tower.

No Press Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will not hold a news conference this week. They usually are scheduled for Wednesday morning. The President did not return from Abilene, Kan., until noon Wednesday.

GOP CANDIDATES VISIT CITY HEADQUARTERS—Present for the recent opening of Republican campaign headquarters at Broadway and O'Neil Street were candidates running for election in November and party leaders and workers. From left are Mrs. Milton Dunham, Mrs. Walter Dunham, Michael Galietta, coroner, seeking re-election; Judge John B. Sterley, chairman of the GOP City Committee; Bernhardt S. Kramer, vice chairman; Surrogate Francis X. Tucker, seeking re-election; Gerald P. Conrad, candidate for alderman-at-large; Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer, past president of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club; Sheriff Claude Bell, a candidate to succeed himself and Addison Jones, the Republican party's choice for mayor of Kingston. Allot $160,367 To County From Motor Fuel Tax

Ulster County has been allotted $160,367.73 as its share of the distribution of $6,503,561.10 in state motor fuel tax receipts to the 57 counties outside New York City for the quarter ending September 30.

This is $59,932.98 over the amount allotted for the corresponding quarter last year.

The fuel tax receipts are being returned to the counties in accordance with the state highway law.

The law provides that 10 per cent of the statewide collection of the state's gasoline tax and the tax on diesel motor fuel are allotted to the counties on the proportional basis of county road and town highway mileage in each county. The money is ear-marked by statute for deposit in the county road funds.

This quarterly distribution reflects the two-cent increase in the tax on motor fuel and the three cent tax increase on diesel fuel.

Tools, Items Stolen

Two gas stations in Prattsville, Greene County, were broken into Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning and tools and other items valued at $200 were stolen. Owners of the stations are Thomas O'Hara and Ralph Villeta. State police are investigating.

Mrs. Gerrett Wullschleger of New Paltz is in charge of luncheon reservations.

ICC to Resume Hearing on Rail Merger Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission resumed today its consideration of a proposal to merge the Erie and Lackawanna railroads.

Lackawanna President Perry M. Shoemaker was a scheduled witness at the resumption of a hearing on the proposal which would create the nation's 12th largest railroad.

Shoemaker was to be cross-examined by Arnold Fein, attorney for 10 Lackawanna stockholders who are protesting the merger.

The hearing was recessed last Thursday by ICC Examiner Hyman J. Blond to allow Fein more time to prepare his case.

Los Alamos Blast Kills Four Men

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — Four men unloading high explosive scraps at a dump near this atomic laboratory city were killed Wednesday when the material exploded.

Officials said no radioactive material was involved. High explosives, like TNT, are used in many experiments in developing atomic weapons.

The dead were Leopoldo Pacheco, 50, Sevedeo Lujan, 53; Jose C. Cordova, 37; and Escolastico Martinez, 47.

Officials said the four nontechnical employes were on a routine job—that scraps of such explosives were burned in the pit almost every day.

Two Cars Damaged

Two vehicles were damaged Wednesday in a collision which occurred on Wurts Street near West Union Street. Police said the cars were operated by Frank E. Tease, 412 Foxhall Avenue, and Hjardis Sturrock, 44, of Port Ewen. Both vehicles were traveling north on Wurts Street at the time of the impact.

Treated for Dog Bite
